Action Against Bishop Cannon By U. S. Senate Is Uncertainty

Lack Of Quorum In Probers' Committee Adds To Muddle In Case

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—The senate may determine whether Bishop James Cannon, Jr., should tell its lobby committee about his anti-Smith activities in the 1928 presidential campaign.

A move was on foot today to put the question to that body in a request for authority to question Cannon on any subject.

Doubt Probe Powers

While the defiant bishop was warned his actions in refusing to reply to questions as to his "personal, political activities," along with his abrupt "withdrawal" as a witness was expressed as to the right of the lobby inquiry to probe such matters under present powers. In the light of this, some members believed the best course lay in a demand for broader powers from the senate.

Such a course, they pointed out, would leave the Methodist leader no course but to reply or face contempt proceedings.

Thus far Cannon, in walking out on the committee and turning down inquiry into his political work has not become liable for proceedings because

PA NEW OBSERVES

Residents of the extreme northern end of the city were non-plussed last night to hear the martial airs of a drum corps and being unable to locate the musicians in the neighborhood. It was believed for a time that some radio loud speaker was giving the music. It was later discovered that the drum corps being heard, was playing on top of the cathedral two miles away. The veterans drum corps was rehearsing.

Grape arbor about the city gave plenty of evidence of the recent killing frosts. The leaves are entirely wilted.

Youngsters were perched atop the balustrade of the North street bridge, fishing last night. And they reported quite a good catch.

Bathing suit were in demand yesterday when the temperature got to the sweltering point. At several places around the city the children were out in bathing suits disporting in the spray furnished by the garden hose.

Many people from distant points are visiting in New Castle, judging by the number of license plates noted on machines. The tourists are not tourists either as no equipment generally carried by tourists has been noted on these cars. Pa New observed license plates from Missouri, Rhode Island, Texas, Florida, and California this morning.

A total of 141 miles of concrete has been poured on Pennsylvania Highways during the current season, according to figures given on the Pennsylvania Highway Detour bulletin for the coming week. There were 39.34 miles of concrete poured last week.

Had it not been for a cooling breeze last night would have been a bad night to sleep. The lowest temperature recorded during the night was 71 degrees. This followed a day of torrid heat, the mercury climbing to 93 yesterday.

Kissing Custom Banned At Annapolis, But Cadet Finds Solution At Altar

By Keen Rafferty
Central Press Staff Writer
ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 6.—They've put their foot down on the annual kissing business here at the United States Naval Academy this year, but Cadet Lieut. Thomas Brandenburg Hughes doesn't mind. He's got his coming. He'll marry the girl who traditionally would have been the kisses.

Cadet Lieut. Hughes who comes from Kansas City, is commander of Midshipman Company No. 1, the company which won the annual intercompany competition at the Academy, and the winner of this contest for many years during graduation has been privileged to implant one formal kiss somewhere on the face of any damsel he might care to select to present him with the American flag during the ritual.

Cadet Lieut. Hughes immediately chose Miss Alberta Ely of Kansas.

Then there was issued an official decree by Academy executives that there's to be no more kissing as a reward for the commander of the best company.

But Cadet Lieut. Hughes doesn't mind, because Miss Ely will give him the flag, anyway and she'll marry him as soon as his graduation is over in June, and they'll probably hang the flag up in the living room over the fireplace, and nobody is so silly as to maintain that the kissing business is anything but simply temporarily delayed.

Hughes and Miss Ely went to country high school together in Johnson County Kansas and their marriage will top a romance begun between them there.

Senate Showing Little Interest In Naval Treaty

Not Much Enthusiasm For London Naval Treaty Apparent On Capitol Hill

SENATOR BORAH IS APPEALED TO

President Hoover Desirous To Getting Ratification Before Adjournment

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Hoover's personal appeals to Senate leaders to ratify the London naval treaty before going home for the summer apparently inspired but little enthusiasm on Capitol Hill today.

The weather in Washington is getting hotter—it was 92 yesterday and mounting today—and the rise in temperature was commensurate with the Senate's increasing desire to dispose of the tariff bill and quit. More than one-third of the members, 35 to be exact, face re-election in November, which intensifies the senatorial longing to renew home ties after a year and a half of almost continuous session.

Confers with Borah

So keen is Mr. Hoover's desire to see the treaty removed from the realm of active controversy, however, that he renewed relations with Senator Borah in an effort to enlist the Idahoan's active support for speedy ratification. Borah hasn't been at the White House for many weeks; in fact, he hasn't been around since he split with the President over the farm

The Mexican ace plans a non-stop good will flight to Mexico City after reaching New York.

Auditor At Shenango Plant Goes To General Offices

CHRISTMAN SUCCEEDS TO POSITION HERE

After some sixteen years of service with the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company plants in New Castle, Murrow D. Wells, Works Auditor of the Shenango Plant has been promoted to the Accounting Department of the General Office, Pittsburgh, Pa. While the announcement is made today, the promotion is effective as of June 1.

The promotion of Mr. Wells will be greeted with hearty approval of his friends in New Castle, although his leaving the city will be a matter of general regret. He came to New Castle in 1914 as Works Auditor of the New Castle Plant coming here from the Pittsburgh plant at New Kensington where he spent five years. Prior to that time he had been four years in the Laughlin Plant at Martins Ferry, O., where he entered the service of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. After four years as Works Auditor of the New Castle Plant, he was promoted to the position of Works Auditor of the Shenango Plant where he has been for sixteen years.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 6.—Headlines in all the papers say: "Authorities Having Trouble Rounding Up 12 Escaped Convicts." The main trouble is recognizing 'em. I bet they get a different twelve back in.

Papers also been commenting on the novel way the state of Nevada "executed a man for committing murder." The novelty of that was that a prisoner was executed in any way for just committing murder.

Mr. Hoover has had to tell the senate treaty investigation that even a president of the United States has the right of some private correspondence. They asked Bishop Cannon to show his marriage and preaching license.

Final Vote On Tariff Measure Likely Next Week

House And Senate Conferees Spurred On By Demands For Speedy Action

LONG BATTLE MAY END VERY SHORTLY

Vote in Senate On Tariff Bill Is Going To Be Close Is Indication

By WILLIAM HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Spurred by demands for speedy action, House and Senate conferees met in their third conference today to finally compromise the last of a long series of disputes between the two branches of Congress over the administration's sixteen-months-old tariff bill.

A final vote, within ten days, was in sight as the conferees debated changes in the bill to conform with the rulings of Vice President Curtis that their original compromise rates on cheese, rayon, watches and cattle had been exorbitant. Democratic leaders aided in drafting the final schedules on these items. They also considered minor changes in the rates on cherries to conform with a "doubt" expressed by Curtis that the schedule too might be out of order.

Vote Next Week

It was the plan of administration leaders to complete the last-minute changes within a few hours and present a final draft of the bill to the Senate this afternoon. Then, they will seek to combine the two sections of the conferees report so that one vote can be taken on the bill as a whole. This final vote which will either pass the bill or kill it, will be postponed until next week.

There was a difference of opinion over the bill's ultimate fate in the Senate. The International News Service poll continued to show the bill's passage by a total vote of 49 to 47, providing Senator Grundy (R) of Pa. voted for it. Otherwise, the poll indicated a tie vote, with vice president Curtis ready to break it with vote for enactment.

Not Over-Confident

Administration leaders, realizing the closeness of the vote, were by no means over-confident. They pointed out that if Grundy and one other regular Republican senator should oppose the bill, it would be killed by the Senate. Thus far, they have secured but five Democratic votes for the final passage—Senators Broussard and Randall, of Louisiana, Fletcher and Trammell, of Florida, and Kendrick, of Wyoming. On the other hand, thirteen insurgent Republicans and the Farmer-Laborite have indicated they will vote with the remainder of the Democrats against its enactment.

The bill's fate rested entirely with the Senate. It was a foregone conclusion that the administration would jam it through the House without much trouble. This was definitely demonstrated when the House rejected by a vote of 140 to 181, a Democratic effort to have the House conferees instructed to hold out for free hides, leather and shoes. This was the closest the bill's opponents could come to victory in the House and when that motion lost, they abandoned other proposed attempts to slash rates in conference.

Both friends and foes of the bill indicated a desire to dispose of it promptly. It was entirely likely that the Senate would vote on it finally by Tuesday or Wednesday. It would require only another 48 hours to get the House's final approval. This would send the bill, if the Senate approves it, to the White House by the end of the week for President's Hoover's signature.

Public Schools Close For Summer Vacation

Nearly 11,000 students of the New Castle Public Schools finish their year's work today and the schools close for the usual three months vacation. By tomorrow morning the exodus of teachers will be under way, and for three months the classroom and hallway of the schools will be silent.

"We feel that it has been a successful year" said Dr. C. C. Green. "The achievements of the schools this term have been such that the citizens of the city should be proud of their schools. In addition to the regular curriculum work, this school system entertained the annual state convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association last December in such a manner that New Castle is known over the state as a real convention city."

The formal closing of the school system takes place tonight when the seniors of the Senior High school receive their diplomas. Promotion certificates are being given out today, the final bits of work are being completed and the teachers and students alike prepare for a vacation that will last until the bell rings in September.

Many of the teachers are planning to attend the summer schools in colleges ranging from Columbia on the east to the University of Southern California on the west. Some of the teachers will tour Europe, a few expect to work this summer, but the majority of them will spend their time recuperating for the next term.

Ford Believes That Business Depression Is Fast Nearing End

Detroit Auto Magnate Gives Out Business Interview While In Philadelphia

Says Recovery From Business Depression Is Faster Than Recent Decline

(International News Service)
Business conditions are decidedly on the upward trend in the estimation of Henry Ford, Detroit auto magnate, who arrived here late yesterday for reasons undivulged.

Prior to dining at the home of Edward T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia's most noted financier last night, Ford gave out a brief interview.

Recovery from the business depression is proceeding at a faster rate than the decline when it began a few months ago, Ford is convinced.

"You see a lot of these fellows were fooling around with the stock market and they got caught," he explained. "Badly caught. They had to go to work again. Now, they've been at work and they're beginning to enjoy it. That is always the reason for good business. In itself it means there are more people honestly engaged."

As a result of the article published in yesterday's News, requesting pictures of Civil War veterans of Lawrence county, the impression was conveyed to some that pictures of all those men who served in the Civil War were desired.

This is not the case however, as only the surviving veterans who are now living in the county are wanted. These pictures are desired for use in connection with the coming G. A. R. encampment here next week, when New Castle will be host to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic.

City Schools To Send Exhibit Of Work To Russia

New Castle schools will be represented in the international exhibit of school work to be shown at the international convention of educators to be held in Russia this fall. A display of music work done here is being prepared and will be forwarded to Russia.

Under the supervision of Miss Gladys Rich, a demonstration of the work of New Castle students was given at the state convention held here last December. This attracted the attention of the state director of music Dr. Rosenberry and he asked that some of the projects be sent to the national meeting. Here they attracted the attention of the convention and it was asked that they be sent to the international convention in Russia.

To mountain and shore and to wooded hill, the teachers and students go, to see the things that they learned about when the world was covered with snow. For the year is done and the classes through, and the youngsters can go to play, for the term is over, for teacher and kid, and this is the happy day.

Sunday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies, when it is anticipated that all the organizations participating will have arrived. Company K, Captain W. D. Park, has been honored in being selected for brigade guard mount on Sunday morning.

Some idea of the proportions of the undertaking to prepare for the camp may be seen in the fact that in order to supply water needed at the camp it was necessary today to lay a pipe line from the main of the City of New Castle Water Company to the camp at Scotland Lane. It required 1,700 feet of pipe and the services of expert plumbers.

The feeding of this immense group of men in regular mess is another problem of large proportions, requiring a special stove, which has been erected through the co-operation of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works.

Delegates Arriving
While the camp will be getting under way Saturday and Sunday, there will also be the early arrivals of the various affiliated organizations participating in the encampment coming in from all parts of the state. It is anticipated that quite a few people will arrive Sunday evening and on Monday there will be the arrival of the major part of the delegates to keep the various encampment committees busy.

It is planned to have first aid equipment and nurses at all the principal meeting places at all times when there is any possible need. At the Castleton, headquarters of the G. A. R. Ladies of the G. A. R. and other organizations, there will be maintained a regular nursing service at all times. The Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospitals are furnishing the nurses for this particular service.

Parade Wednesday
The big feature of the encampment will be the parade and campfire on Wednesday afternoon and evening respectively.

All service, patriotic and civic organizations are invited to participate in the parade and have a part in the greatest patriotic demonstration held here in many years. The campfire will be held in the Cathedral and the public will be welcome.

Tuesday evening in the ballroom of the Cathedral there will be the reception to the Grand Army of the Republic and allied organizations. This will also be a big feature of the encampment.

At the campfire Wednesday night the assembled guests of the city will be welcomed on behalf of the community by Judge James A. Chambers, and on behalf of the general public by General Chairman Fred L. Renz.

There will be a number of presentations made during the convention, including the Lincoln tablet to the high school by the Woman's Relief Corps, a flag to the boy making the best patriotic oration in the high school by the Woman's Relief Corps, a flag to the boy in the seventh or eighth grades of the schools of the city for the best patriotic essay by the Sons of Union Veterans, a flag to one of the public schools by the Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans.

bill, the Hughes nomination, the Parker nomination and over other matters.

The President met with only indifferent success with Senator Borah, according to all indications. Borah is going to support the treaty, but he is not enthusiastic about it, and, in fact, there is reason to believe that the Idahoan rather sympathizes with those who are seeking to delay ratification until November.

"I told the President," said Borah, "that it was wholly immaterial to me whether the treaty was disposed of at the regular session or at a special session."

"I did not say to the President, but I say now, that I have felt the committee (of foreign relations) was entitled to all the facts which would throw any light on going home, at the expense of what some even think is delay. But when the facts are all in I feel we should dispose of the treaty."

It was significant that Borah did not say he agreed with Mr. Hoover's idea that the Senate should dispose of the treaty before going home.

There is a well defined move afoot in the Senate to dispose of the tariff, adjourn, allow the President to call the Senate in special session, and then recess the special session until several weeks before the regular session begins next December.

STAR LORE
HOW MUCH WOULD YOU WEIGH ON THE MOON?

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter.
A man weighing 180 pounds on the earth would weigh but 30 pounds on the moon. But that same man would weigh 5,022 pounds on the sun. Of course the difference in weight of the same body is due to the relative masses of these various globes: The moon has but one-eightieth the mass of the earth, while the sun has a mass 330,000 times that of the earth. Here is where the law of gravitation centers. All bodies attract in proportion to their mass—amount of matter. With the reduced gravitation on the moon, one could jump off a 60-foot precipice without harm.

Three members form a quorum of the five man committee. No punitive action is contemplated on Cannon's conduct in leaving the committee flat.

Scorching Criticism
That Cannon will come in for scorching criticism on the floor of the senate for his action, there is no doubt. The committee stood in adjournment following his action in departing as a "voluntary witness." He left in the face of warnings by Walsh he would have to "take your chances on leaving in this manner."

Cannon told the committee he would return when a subpoena was issued and not before. He left to the accompaniment of cheers and hisses from the audience, with warnings of Walsh and Blaine ringing in his ears.

"I'm not on the stand," he replied as a parting shot "my office is in the Bliss Building. If you desire me to return, issue a subpoena."

The committee contemplated issuing no subpoena pending the return of its chairman Senator Caraway, (D) of Arkansas. Walsh adjourned the meeting until next Wednesday, when Caraway is expected to be present. At that time the matter of issuing a subpoena for the Bishop and of asking broader powers from the senate will be taken up.

Thus far Caraway has supported Cannon in his contention that the committee was without power to question him concerning expenditures in his anti-Smith campaign work of 1928. From Arkansas he issued a statement declaring the resolution under which the lobby probe is operating carried no authority for inquiry into campaign expenditures.

Cannon Unperturbed
Washington, June 6.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., who defied and flouted the senate lobby committee as it hunted for him, was unperturbed by any word which was uttered today over the unprecedented storm which his actions have aroused on Capitol Hill.

In keeping with his parting shot at the committee that "if you want me, I'll be in my office," the bishop was at his desk in the Bliss building, hard by the Capitol, while the indignant senators waited the return of Senator Caraway, (D) of Ark., the committee chairman, before determining any course of procedure.

Caraway, who suddenly decided to leave Washington on the eve of the bishop's appearance before the committee, was reported to be in the city, Ark., planning to go to motor leisurely back to the capital. Meanwhile the committee smarted from the bishop's sting and waited.

The range of procedure against the Methodist leader is somewhat indefinite because of the fact he was not under formal subpoena and there was no legal quorum present when he voiced his disrespect and defiance for the committee.

Stock Market Settles Down
To Lower Price Level
Today

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor.
NEW YORK, June 6.—The stock market settled down to a lower level of prices today. The market suffered most from sheer neglect and the indifference of outside traders.

American Rolling Mills dropped off 3 1/2 points to 64 1/2. Industrial alcohol lost 2 1/2 points to 85.

Westinghouse showed a loss of 2 1/2 points at 174 and General Electric dropped off to the low price of the week.

Anaconda Copper held steadily around 56 1/2 today, in the face of persistent reports of a forthcoming cut in the dividend rate to 4 per cent.

The railroad stocks, the oils, motors and other important groups fared from the speculative picture today and trading in that section of the market was extremely dull. The price range was generally lower, with fractional losses in such representative shares as General Motors, Chrysler, Chesapeake and Ohio, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Sinclair.

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO DESTRUCTION
Residents of Delaware avenue between Wildwood and Winter avenues, have filed complaints with the police department concerning wanton destruction of their flowers by a group of boys between the ages of ten and fourteen years of that district. The destruction is evidently due to the thoughtlessness of the boys in playing hide and seek and other games as they trample down the flowers in the course of their play. The complaints state that they realize that the boys must play, but that they feel that they should also respect the property of others in doing so. Some of the complainants are planning legal action if the destruction is not stopped.

Mrs. Fred Rentz Entertains G. A. R. Ladies At Silver Tea

As a preliminary event to the forthcoming G. A. R. Convention the ladies of the organization inaugurated a very pleasing and successful variation of their usual flag selling program yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz, Edison avenue.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Rentz, it was decided to make the occasion this year a silver tea instead and accordingly the Rentz home became the scene of what proved to be one of the most successful events of the season.

The place chosen, being noted as one of the beauty spots of the city by its gorgeous Rock Garden, was ideal for such a gathering. Beautiful flowers of many delicate hues, the gift of Robert Weingartner, who raised them in his green houses, were used in profusion throughout in a tasteful manner, adding much to the attractiveness of the interior of the home.

The afternoon was opened with tea being served the guests of honor, those belonging to the G. A. R. in the dining room, all being seated about the room around the table which was an array of the patriotic colors, the red, the white and the blue. A large crystal bowl containing flowers, guarded by three tall tapers in keeping with the occasion, graced the table center, surrounded by the silver serving service, was indeed inviting to the many who attended this affair.

Tea poured during the afternoon were Mrs. James T. Ray and Miss Anna Gilland who were aided by Mrs. Jacob Rentz and Mrs. W. E. Ferver. Mrs. Fred Rentz' group of the Queen Esther's Auxiliary of the First Methodist church served dainty refreshments to the guests during the tea hours. Those in charge of arrangements are to be congratulated on the excellence of the service which would have been impossible to accomplish such splendid results without every degree of co-operation among the members.

At intervals during the procedure of the afternoon, a program especially arranged delighted the guests. Those who participated, displaying excellent talent, include the following:

Improvisation, McDowell, Piano. Miss Mary Long. Adoration, Felix Borowski, Violin. George Freeman, piano accompanist. Miss Julia Sidley. Speech, "Pa and Ma are Methodists," Little Kathryn Wilcox. Mrs. Hughes was a graduate of the New Castle high school class of '26. Mr. Hughes is employed by the P and O company. Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding party left for Youngstown, where dinner was served.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes left for a two weeks motor trip to Canada and the northern states.

After June 20, they will be at home to their friends at their summer home at Lakewood Beach.

JOURNEY'S END

World's Greatest Play Coming to The Capitol Monday For One Week Only

"Journey's End" will be the attraction at the Capitol theatre commencing Monday. This is the play that two continents have been packing theatres to see for over a year. This is the play so perfect, so inspiring, so to be cherished that columns and columns have been written expressing a fear of what would happen to it in its transition from the speaking stage to the talking celluloid.

Not unmindful of all the terrors on the part of the legion of admirers of "Journey's End," Tiffany-Gamborough, its producers, made an inviolable law at the very start—it must preserve R. C. Sherrin's play in letter, spirit and gesture. And if advance criticism can be relied upon, it has.

YOUTH AND AGE NEED EACH OTHER

"OLD men for counsel, young men for war," so the maxim runs. But from time to time the controversy whether age or youth has the larger place is renewed. Mr. Henry Ford, who has expressed views on the subject before now, believes more than ever that business and industry must depend upon the leadership of men of mature years. He says he has found no reason to change his previously expressed conviction that if all the men of fifty-five and older were removed from industry "there would not be brains enough to carry on." That is a rather sweeping statement; but the man who made fame and fortune in the manufacture of low-priced cars is not one who is given to reservations when it comes to disclosing his views on men and things.

In saying this Mr. Ford wants it understood he has no intention of reflecting on the youth of today. "I think," he asserts, "that while they are different, today's youngsters are a fine lot, and they are decidedly not headed for perdition. Moreover, they have greater opportunities today than the youth of forty or fifty years ago." As a rule the young man, particularly the graduate, has the feeling that he is going to conquer the world without the aid and assistance of anybody. Mr. Ford assures us that he never felt that way. "I always," he says, "had older men for friends, and I always went to them for advice. I could cite them one after another. Old men understood my idea better than young men did. With mature years I realized more and more the value of that advice."

There are many different roads to success, and it is a wise young man who will pause long enough to ask directions from those who are older than himself.

MUNICIPAL MERGERS

As the census figures come in, and city after city is disappointed in its total, the question of annexation becomes a live one, avers the Green Bay Press Gazette. Cities and towns have not yielded to the modern tendency to consolidation as much as have business institutions. Communities which have visibly grown together, and which may be functioning practically as one for economic purposes, still maintain their separate political organizations and identities.

Big communities which have spawned populous suburbs often find themselves closed in by a relentless ring. The suburbanites, when away from home, unhesitatingly give the parent city as their residence, because it is well known and they are proud to be associated with it. Yet at home they stubbornly stand aside with their separate set of officials, even though it creates awkwardness and confusion in adjusting public utility services, fire protection, taxes, educational systems, traffic regulations, etc.

Census year, with its emphasis on population, tends to change this attitude. Citizens of parent cities and daughter cities alike come to feel the injustice of the census totals and wrong impression given by them. They realize more clearly that communities which are one economically and socially should be one politically. So there is a strong movement for municipal mergers, either through annexation of the smaller units to the larger, or through borough systems which, uniting the whole group of municipalities in a sort of federal plan, leave the outlying units self-government in local matters.

FEWER WOMEN THAN MEN IN COUNTY HOMES

A survey of the eighty-one county homes in Pennsylvania shows that male inmates outnumber the female inmates two to one. Hereafter plans for new buildings will observe the ratio in laying out separate quarters for the sexes. The reason fewer women than men seek public institutions is that more private institutions cater to women exclusively and more women are taken into private homes it is explained in the survey.

The facts will probably surprise many. Lodging-house keepers often accept men customers chiefly and boarding-house landladies often show the same trade discrimination. Perhaps the tradition survives from the cradle, where boy babies are preferred. But evidently when one reaches the age or circumstances of dependency the male is the more helpless. His mate can do housework and that is a line where unemployment is least prevalent. There is less real need for a "handy man" about the house to do tasks at which the husband rebels than one might suspect from the tenor of family jars.

CRASH, CRASH AND CRASH

Driving swiftly on a Georgia road, R. B. Stothard attempted to light a cigarette. In the moment of inattention, the car swerved, plunged off the road and over turned. His wife suffered a fractured skull and he painful bruises.

Hearing of the accident, a daughter, Mrs. Louise McCusker, chartered a plane and secured the emergency services of a physician, Dr. Frederick Harvey of the North Chicago hospital.

Before it had gone far on the way toward the bedside of the injured parents the hastily lifted plane plunged to the earth, killed the pilot, seriously injured the woman and gashed the physician.

With the inert form of Mrs. McCusker in his arms, the physician staggered across fields to a hospital in Culversville, Indiana. There he set fractures in both her legs, sewed up her cuts, attended as best he could for her internal injuries, then washed away his own blood, attended to his surgical requirements, chartered an other plane and started anew the flight to the beds of pain in Georgia.

Two Men Gambled.
Salary, One Million?
Man's Safety Valve.
They Burn Them.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features Syn., Inc.)

Two men, three thousand miles apart, won by gambling on Wednesday's derby.
One, English, 54 years old, bought a ticket in the Calcutta sweepstakes, and drew the favorite, expected to win. If that horse had won, the holder of the ticket on the favorite would have made $600,000.
The wise owner of the favorite ticket sold it for $100,000, will invest at 5 per cent, and live happy ever afterward. He took a certainty, on $100,000.
And the horse on which he had the ticket lost. An outsider, Blenheim, won at odds of 13 to 1.

The Aga Khan, who owns Blenheim, is head of a great religious body in Asia. They send him a fortune every year, for the good of their souls. He spends it on racing, for the good of the British turf.

The other gambling winner is a Frenchman, 18 years old. He drew the 13 to 1 winner, Blenheim, in a Canadian sweepstake, and is, temporarily, richer by $149,000.

A miracle might happen, the young winner of $149,000 might invest the money wisely, take care of it, enjoy it.

The general rule is "once a gambler, always a gambler." If the money gives out.

The pity is that such gambling news, which must be printed, starts thousands of gamblers. They do not hear of the tens of millions who gambled and lost.

Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, Charles M. Schwab's creation, declined to answer questions about his salary. Lawyers asked:

"Is your salary more than one million a year?"
Grace replied in substance:
"None of your business."

Once the mention of a $1,000,000 salary would have shaken the stars in their course, almost. Now it shakes nobody. Everything is a matter of "entente." You earn five thousand a year for your employer, you are worth "twenty-five hundred dollars."
If you earn five million dollars a year, you are worth two hundred and fifty thousand, if you earn $50,000,000 a year, you are worth $2,500,000.

A civilization that can afford to pay $5,000,000 a year salary for a few minutes' talk on the radio, can afford $1,000,000 for running a big steel concern, spread all over the country.

Mr. Grace is one of the ablest steel men living, and an able corporation manager.
The London Daily Mail is agitated because 3,000 men marched through the street at Poona in India, "openly abusing the government, carrying a portrait of King George, emperor of India, decorated with old shies, in token of contempt."

The Mail correspondent thinks something should be done to make the Hindus respect their British emperor.
The fact that not very much is done, shows how wise the British are. Great Britain will let you talk to your heart's content, if you don't act. In Hyde Park, a few blocks from Buckingham Palace, you may say whatever you think about King George. Nobody will disturb you while you only talk.
A wise nation knows enough not to sit on the safety valve. Man's mouth is his safety valve.

Chicago's police suspect that gangsters, working toward greater crime perfection, have established a private crematory to burn the "tims of their 'rides," machine gun executions, etc. Of late, gangsters have "disappeared," their corpses never found.

The latest fashion is to shoot your man and carry away the body in an automobile. The police say several "big shots" in the who's who of crime must have been cremated since they can't be found. Examination of one furnace revealed 100 sticks of dynamite.
Married only a year, a charming young woman, bringing suit for divorce against her rich husband, at West Palm Beach, Fla., said the husband rang alarm clocks and cowbells, all over the house, until late in the morning.
The master in chancery called that extreme cruelty and divorced her. "A trust settlement of half a million to a million dollars is under discussion." The husband, according to the annoyed wife, hid many alarm clocks in her room, arranged to go off every few minutes.
The rich, with no serious work on hand, are prone to strange forms of amusement.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, victorious in her second as in her first Florida campaign for Congress, defeats her gentleman opponent overwhelmingly. He, Dewitt T. Deen, a lawyer, ran on a "wet" platform.
Strange votes are unreliable. Many Americans like to "vote dry and live wet." And Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, inheriting her father's talent, in accordance with the laws of heredity, will continue to be a good congresswoman.

Cut Prices And Book Sales Debated As Publishers Act

Effect Of Revolutionary Change Becomes Matter Of Debate And Possibility Of New Interest Among People Is Suggested

Announcement that several publishers have decided to make material reductions in the prices of books leads to much speculation as to whether there will be a largely increased number of persons buying books, and as to whether mass production will be found to be more profitable to publishers. Possible reduction of margin between cost and market prices is considered as possibly pointing to elimination of unworthy elements in the output of modern literature.

"People buy cheap cars, cheap furniture and other cheap goods," suggests the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL, "because they can buy more of them. The principle of mass production might as well be applied to books. More will be sold and their content is just as valuable as though they were bound in toolled leather." On this subject of quantity output, the CHATTANOOGA TIMES hopes that "the present price war will result in the idea being given a trial," and the ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT advises that "as determining how far our book buying is influenced by bargain prices, the experiment will be highly interesting."

"The booksellers," according to the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, "note the declining influence of the book clubs. The mere fact that a book is selected by one of these organizations is no longer the only requirement for sale elsewhere. This would indicate that readers prefer to select their own titles." The CHATTANOOGA NEWS believes that "the good habit of reading books will be stimulated by the era of lower-priced books," and the PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER offers the comment: "Here is an attempt to put life into a sick business. Whether it will accomplish the desired result will be seen as the experiment is made. The theory is that it should increase the number of buyers and in this way justify the experiment. There is no doubt that the price of most books has become prohibitive to many who would like to buy and own their own literature; but the proposed cut is so radical that it is almost revolutionary."

"Such a drastic course of action as some publishers have now embarked upon," in the judgment of the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "cannot fail of some fairly definite results. For the good of the trade, we earnestly trust that no merciless price war will develop, but it seems likely that even on the part of the most conservative and prudent publishers the ensuing period will be marked by active and acute cost-accounting, with books priced as near to the line of commercial safety as possible. If so, increased sales should result. And especially are we impressed by the advice given by one publisher who declares that fewer rather than cheaper new books is the remedy. The shorter a firm's list the more time and resources it will have to expend upon those of its offerings which are of the most worth in content, in popular appeal, or in both. By such a policy, in a period somewhat surfeited by the touting of books famous today and forgotten tomorrow, such a result is much to be gained of stable benefit."

"In all probability," declares the FLINT DAILY JOURNAL, "this price cutting will make book history, just as the book clubs have revolutionized some of the publishing practices. It has been growing increasingly evident to the publishers that this step was necessary. Americans have been traveling. The traveling public has been to Europe and bought the paper covered books which are so popular there. And the traveling public is to a great extent the reading public—or at least the same part of the public which leads in matters of taste and choice. An American who has purchased a good novel at a railway station kiosk in Europe for a few dimes always regrets the dollars he has to pay in America."

"The price of books," avers the CHARLESTON EVENING POST, "is quite ridiculous, when cost and value are considered, although it may be necessary considering the wasteful methods of publishing. The cost of production is not high, but the overhead and the promotion costs are excessive. Principally, perhaps, the excess comes in the great number of books published which ought never to see the light, on which the publishers squander large sums in a great effort to make the public read. Possibly they succeed in that endeavor once or twice but, all the time, they are making the book buying public skeptical and making it more and more difficult, therefore, to put over one more. If books are to be sold at a dollar or, in paper binding at 50 cents, large numbers must be discarded to make a profit to the publishers. It is not unlikely then that the lower level of prices may make for a closer and a better selection of material for publication."

The BELOIT DAILY NEWS feels that "there is no telling how much the high prices have turned Americans away from books to devoting the bulk of their reading time to periodical literature," while the MILWAUKEE SENTINEL concludes that "the competition of magazines and publishers of cheap reprints has driven the book publishers to this price cutting," and the NEW ORLEANS MORNING TRIBUNE remarks: "The reading public will be grateful, but will wonder why it all hasn't been done before. Probably the principle has been the ancient and honorable one of charging all that the traffic would bear as long as the traffic would bear it. Over-advertising of worthless or near-worthless literary provender, apparently, has brought relief from the evils it created. It cost the publisher great sums, and eventually destroyed confidence. Then came the economic depression, and the tale of further. There could be but one answer, reduction in prices."

"Expansion of the market for books of all types" as well as fiction is suggested by the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN as a possibility, while the DETROIT FREE PRESS draws the conclusion that "deflation of prices and curtailment of the number of fiction titles issued may hurt those in the book business for a time, particularly those in the publishing end, but the outcome of the process is bound to be healthful for everybody."

The SANTA MONICA OUTLOOK, condemning the "merely trivial and vulgar" states that "something has struck the book publishers in the right place."

The contest to establish the most prolific mother in Mexico conducted by the newspaper Excelsior, published in Mexico City, has concluded, showing a total of 319 children born of 22 mothers in 22 states of the republic that participated in the contest. The contest stipulated that in each case there had to be but one father and one mother and all the mothers had to satisfy the judges that they had personally nursed their children and that all were living.

The leader of the group is Senora Rosalie Romero De Camacho of Santa Rosalia, Baja California. Two cases have still to be heard from before the final winner is declared.

Senora Angela Varona, of Tenancingo De Valle, State of Mexico, is the mother of thirty-two children and Senora Juana Barrera De Chavarria of San Bartolome, State of Chiapas, is credited with having brought thirty-seven children into the world. It is still to be ascertained how many of these children are living. These children are not included in the total of 319.

The winner in each State will be presented with a scrolled parchment naming her queen mother of her State, while the national winner will be suitably honored on Mexican Mothers' Day.

In the majority of cases all the mothers are of humble origin and several of the state authorities have signified their intention of awarding them gifts and money as well as pensions for the education of their offspring.

Probe Crash Of Airways Plane

Seek To Determine Cause For Motor Cutting Out—Plane Drops Into Harbor

ONE PASSENGER DROWNING VICTIM

(International News Service) BOSTON, June 6.—As investigations get underway today into the motor failure that caused a New York Airways plane to drop into Boston harbor resulting in the drowning of one passenger and minor injuries to 14 others, Pilot Owen O'Connor was credited with preventing a crash on land by his skillful handling of the plane.

Pearl S. Thorsen, a contractor of this city and New York, was drowned when he attempted to swim to shore from the "burned" plane. Seven passengers remained in hospitals here overnight while others rested at hotels.

The right motor, for some seasons unknown, cut out and the ship commenced to settle, according to a statement by John F. Ryan, president of Colonial Airways, operators of the plane.

The failure of the motor while the plane was climbing from the field and heading for rough terrain at its southerly end would have had more serious consequences were it not for the manner in which Pilot O'Connor flew the ship past the dangerous ground and "panicked" into the bay.

Among those suffering minor injuries were Val Chick, co-pilot; W. A. Stayton, Rochester, Pa., and W. H. Shaffer, Pittsburgh.

EAT, Brother, EAT!

What a Different World when Appetite is Keener!

YOUR whole attitude toward food changes when appetite is keen. Your own doctor will tell you it is just as important to enjoy your food as to eat it.

Some folks just eat because it's meal-time. To them, eating is mechanical—a problem, not a pleasure. But what a treat awaits these men and women when once they realize how sharpened appetite lends magic flavor to every blessed morsel.

To dull and drowsy appetites Flaxolyn cries "awake!" It is a sluggish, stubborn appetite indeed, that will not respond to the effective stimulation to the appetite, which Flaxolyn can bring.

But Flaxolyn is not alone an appetizer. It is a formula with other important functions, direct and indirect. Yet Flaxolyn is gentle in its action. It is a combination of dried herbs and bile salts with highly approved medicinal extracts. No drastic or habit-forming drugs.

Flaxolyn contains Sarsaparilla Roots, Valerian (from Belgium), Dandelion Roots, Licorice (from Spain), Aloes (from Barbados Islands), Ginger, Senna Leaves, Buchu Leaves (from Africa), and other potent herbs.

Right here in this neighborhood Flaxolyn has proved a tremendous success. Thousands seeking an aid to keener appetite, richer sleep and freedom from temporary constipation's tax upon the body, are today using Flaxolyn. Many of these men and women are your own age.

Perhaps you, too, will benefit by the Flaxolyn formula. Why not try it and see? Flaxolyn is Free if you personally are not convinced it is all and more than claimed for it.

The Way Of THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

TODAY'S BOYS

Stagg, grand old man among football coaches, says:

"It is my firm belief that the boys of today are better than ever. They are ambitious, determined to succeed, keen in mind, rugged of body, and wholesome of character."

"The softness and flabbiness which prosperity and ease are so likely to develop haven't made any inroads on our American youth."

A COMMON HOBBY

You may grow into a hobby or just adopt one. Or you may grow a new hobby from the ground up. If you think you need a change from routine, a hobby may be the way out. This isn't good advice for young men. It's for middle age or age. But before you pick your hobby, think about the rest of the family. How will it strike the folks? And wouldn't it be a great thing if you and your son could have the same hobby? What possibilities of companionship lie there!

CONVERTED

Not long ago a tablet was placed to mark the spot where the great preacher and evangelist, Dwight L. Moody, was "converted." Don't hear much being converted these days. Nothing wrong about conversion. It's just an old-fashioned method of getting started in the right direction. Some think their way to a new start, deliberately, thoughtfully. Others are shot into a new road by an emotional explosion.

NOT A CROWDED FIELD

Parents whose boys have what we call a "mechanical turn of mind" ought to be happy. Scientists will tell them that the field of research and invention is not over-crowded. In some of the great developments of science in the past few years—aviation, radio, talkies—practical men have but scratched the surface of the immeasurable possibilities. Here is a fascinating future for the boy with the "mechanical turn."

BAD DISTRIBUTION

Why do the busiest men always get more jobs? Find a man who is chairman of no committee, serves on no board, does nothing outside his own business and there's no use asking him to take an important piece of work. He won't. The work will have to be done by a man who is already loaded. He will.

Why the difference? Why the bad distribution? It's apparently the inevitable way of the world. A few always have to carry the load for the many.

FRENCH PRESIDENT WAS ONCE AN ACTOR

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 6.—When the President of the Republic, Monsieur Doumergue, recently started off on a journey to Algeria to attend the celebration in connection with the centenary of French conquests in North Africa, it happened that he traveled along with a group of artists from certain French theatres. Thereupon, he remind them that he once took a minor part of figurant on the stage with the celebrated Sarah Bernhardt. This was at a time when "Gastoumet" was doing his military training at Aix and Bernhardt's troupe was spending a few nights in this city.

As a matter of fact, Peter wasn't in the least anxious to meet Snake Grub, but he thought it wisdom not to say so. At Water Beetle's invitation, out from the clump of grasses where he had been lurking, crawled one of the strangest creatures Peter had ever seen. If he had been alone and met the fellow face to face he would have been badly frightened. As it was, he shivered a little. The creature's body was about two inches long and very fat and thick in the middle, but it tapered at the ends, where the head and tail grew on, and to Peter this seemed very funny. Such a head as the fellow had! It was round as a ball and large and fat and seemed to be so loosely stuck on a short neck that it would liable to topple off any second. Was that head on a pivot? It twisted and turned in all directions. The long pointed jaws in that head! As the creature crawled nearer Peter not only shivered, he shuddered.

Snake Grub had almost reached the bank when he discovered a small sleeping peacefully in the shallow water. Sighting up, the pounced upon the little insect, dragged him out of his shell and gobbled him down before the eyes of the two who were watching. The boy was disgusted and would have pitched a stone at the ugly creature. But Brown Beetle only chuckled.

"Good for you, Snake!" cried he. "Never let a little thing like a snail stand in your way of getting somewhere. Meet the boy friend!"

"Pleased to meet you!" mumbled Snake, mouth full of snail and without further greeting slithered after a stickleback out for a morning swim. The poor little fish never returned home. One pounce and he, too, was in Snake's stomach.

Next: "Mean Mrs. Mosquito."

Plane Falls Into Channel, Twelve Passengers Hurt

Giant Tri-Motored Transport Plane Boston To New York Crashes

RIGHT WING MOTOR CAUSES PLUNGE

(International News Service) BOSTON, June 6.—Twelve persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, Thursday when a giant tri-motored Colonial Airways Inc. airplane en route to New York crashed into the channel at the southeast end of the Boston airport when the right wing motor cut out at the take-off.

Pearl Thorson, of Brookline, was removed from the water unconscious and efforts were being made to revive him.

Val R. Chick, co-pilot of the plane, sustained a broken arm. He was removed to East Boston Relief hospital.

The huge plane, carrying twelve passengers and two pilots, with Pilot Owen J. O'Connor of New York at the controls, had just gone into the air when the right motor stopped. The plane jerked, tipped to one side and then nosed downward into the channel. It sank nearly out of sight.

The passengers, most of them hurt, scrambled onto the wings and got to shore. Workers at the field called an ambulance. All those injured were taken to East Boston Relief hospital. Among those injured was W. H. Shaffer, Jr., 45, of Pittsburgh.

Actress Wants To Own Newspaper

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Ill., June 6.—When Olive Bell Hamon tried being a little girl reporter in Chicago six years ago—and lasted only two months—she went into vaudeville, and, under the stage name of Loma Worth, is still at it.

But when she appeared here in her act, she revealed that she still clung to her early ambition.

"I'm just working to try to earn enough money to buy a newspaper of my own, so no city editor can fire me," said Loma—or Olive. "I like newspaper work more than anything else. But I've always been 'scared' of city editors. Some day I'm going to have a newspaper of my own, so I can have at least one city editor 'scared' of me."

Scientists Not Always Aware Of Own Discoveries

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 6.—When a scientist discovers something of benefit to mankind he does not always know it at the time. Often it requires years before its value becomes generally known.

Professor Michael I. Pupin of Columbia University, himself a world famous scientist, revealed these facts to International News Service in an exclusive interview. He found it a difficult matter to answer the question: "What are the biggest scientific achievements of the last ten years?" because, he said, it may be years before some of these achievements actually become known to mankind generally.

"A scientific achievement is not immediately appreciated by the public—not, in fact, in many cases, by the man who is responsible for the achievement," said Professor Pupin. "One hundred and ten years ago a Danish professor discovered the physical fact that the motion of electricity produces a magnetic force. That was the discovery of electromagnetism. He didn't know it at the time."

"Discoveries are more or less of an accident. They do not come in a flash to the mind of an inventor. You study in your laboratory. You experiment. Gradually you evolve something of benefit. First, so to speak, you creep; then you walk; and suddenly you run."

"Thirty-four years ago I discovered that X-rays make a quicker impression on a photo plate when you put on top of the plate a fluorescent screen. I didn't know at the time how valuable that discovery would be to mankind."

"Today there isn't a hospital in the world that does not use that method of X-ray photography."

"Professor Pupin's contributions to science include inventions that not only revolutionize the X-ray but telephony and wireless telegraphy as well. He pointed out in connection with his improvement of X-ray photography that it required fifteen to twenty years before its value became known to the world over."

"The world has brought the X-ray improvement to the fore. It was of incalculable value in X-raying wounds. His invention reduced the time of exposure in taking an X-ray photograph from one hour to a fraction of a second."

"Professor Pupin, an intellectual and exceedingly modest man, related an interesting story in connection with the X-ray discovery."

"I sat in a dentist's chair on February 6, 1921, twenty-five years to the day after I had made the X-ray photography discovery," said Professor Pupin. "The dentist in photographing my teeth used a film with a fluorescent screen. I was interested as he went about his work, naturally, and I told him I happened to be the man responsible for the invention."

"Have you a patent on it?" he asked. "I told him I had not and asked him why. His answer was this: 'Well, I'm sorry you didn't take out a patent on it. Because if you did you would have been a multimillionaire.'"

THIRD ANNUAL VOLANT DAIRY FIELD EVENT

Most Successful Yet Will Take Place At Volant On Thursday, June 26

Third Annual Volant Dairy Field Day will take place on Thursday, June 26. This event promises to be even more successful than last year's dairy field day, at which time almost 100 head of registered cattle were on display. The association of which J. B. Shaw is president, Milo Moose vice president and Lauren Thompson secretary and treasurer, expects to have a larger number of cattle displayed this year.

Anyone who was in Volant during last year's dairy field day will agree that some of the best registered cattle in Western Pennsylvania are in the northern part of Lawrence county.

Gold prizes will be awarded to winners in each class. E. B. Fitz, of State College, will be the judge. Judging will start at 10 o'clock. There will be a special judging contest in which boys and girls under 18 years of age may enter.

The day will be complete, even to having some splendid music and a delicious dinner. The Pennsylvania Railroad Band will furnish the music and the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will serve the dinner.

Committees in charge of the cattle are: W. M. Armstrong, J. B. Elder, hoists; William Drake, R. L. Thompson, Jerseys; and Audley Lock, Roy Thompson, guernseys.

Grounds committee consists of W. J. Wilkins, C. C. Johnston, S. D. Winger and Milo Moose.

Program committee members are James McConnell, N. E. Sampson and S. A. Allen.

Advertising is in charge of P. M. Cox, F. P. Simpson and E. M. Hilliard.

Grand Jury Says New Court House Is Badly Needed

Also Recommend A New Detention Home In Presentments After Visiting Buildings

Another grand jury recommended a new court house in presentments returned to court Thursday afternoon. The jury said: "We have visited and inspected the county buildings and find that the quarters for court records and other valuable papers and documents are inadequate and unsafe. The building is much too small and antiquated to serve the needs of the county today. Therefore, we recommend a new court house to be erected in the future. We further extend a vote of thanks to the county commissioners for preparing the detention home, but recommend a larger and better building for this purpose."

The jury acted on 51 bills of which 42 were found true bills and nine not true bills.

The 1900th Anniversary Of Pentecost

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

"He went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt."—Matthew 26:39.

This nineteenth hundredth anniversary of the first Christian Pentecost, which the whole Christian world will be celebrating on Sunday, June 8, suggests that this lesson be studied in such a way as to bring out the contrast between the apostles of Christ as they failed their Lord in the shadow of the cross during his agony in Gethsemane and forsook him at his trials and crucifixion and the courageous conduct of the same men, particularly Peter the denier, on the day of Pentecost 50 days after his resurrection.

The Power of Pentecost

At his ascension, when they asked for the restoration of the petty political power of ancient Israel, Jesus said to them, "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." How sorely they needed this supernatural power above is seen in the sorry mess they made of things on the night of their Lord's betrayal. "All ye shall be offended in me this night," said the Lord. And when Peter protested against the application of this prophecy to himself, the Lord became more specific, saying, "Verily I say unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die with Thee, yet will I not deny Thee. Likewise also said all the disciples." How little they knew their weakness and their need of power from outside themselves! How power from their Lord had warned them to "watch and pray that they enter not into temptation" because "the spirit was willing but the flesh was weak." And how miserably they failed that night of his crushing sorrow in Gethsemane! "My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even unto death: abide ye here, and watch with me." This was all he asked of them—the support of their sympathy. But three times he returned from his prayer to find them sleeping, and then he watched over them as they slept until Judas approached, when he awakened them. Then followed Peter's shamefully denial and the forsaking of him by all the others as the shadows of the cross engulfed him.

The Nature Of Pentecost

The second chapter of the Acts of the Apostles pictures the same men, in the same city of Jerusalem, confronted by the same people who crucified their Lord. But what a change! Now Peter preached boldly of their unrepentant sin in crucifying the Lord of glory. The denier is now the Lord Jesus. "Ye have all the rest of the twelve. The Holy Spirit has endowed them with power; new power to see Christ and his Cross as they have never seen them before; new power to be what they had been unable to be before in their witnessing for Christ; new power to bear persecution; and new power to serve the Lord Jesus. As a frail wire, able of its own strength to lift but a few pounds, may become the channel for power sufficient to lift many tons, so these twelve men became conductors of the power of Christ. The Holy Spirit had endowed them with that power, which Christ had promised when he said, 'All power is given unto me,' and again he said, 'Ye shall receive power when the Holy Ghost is come upon you.'"

(The suggested daily Bible readings for next week's study are: Monday, Luke 23:13-25; Tuesday, Matt. 27:33-44; Wednesday, Matt. 27:45-56; Thursday, Luke 23:50-56; Friday, John 10:17-18; Saturday, Rom. 5:1-11; Sunday, Psalm 22:1-5.)

McKeesport Couple Seriously Stabbed, Assailant Is Sought

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—With Frank Gacacare, 52 and his wife Rose, 49, in a critical condition in McKeesport hospital from stab wounds, the police today were searching for the couple's son-in-law and their alleged assailant, Sam Neir, 33.

Failed To Honor Subpoena, Given 90-Day Stretch

Man Who Refused To Testify Against Forney, Slot Machine King, Given Sentence

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 6.—What is believed to constitute the closing chapter of the celebrated Al Forney case was finished today when John "Mac" McCarthy, 34, began serving a 90-day jail term for contempt of court in failing to answer a subpoena to testify against Forney, alleged slot machine king.

Forney went free last March when a jury returned a not guilty verdict on charges of having placed slot machines in and about the city. In addition to the jail sentence, McCarthy was fined $800. Dale and Lawrence McCarthy, his brothers, were fined $250 each and ordered to stand committed until the amount was paid.

The three brothers were arraigned at the time of the big slot machine and graft probe here in which 150 other defendants entered guilty pleas to charges of having slot machines. The other defendants were let off with fines ranging from $25 to $200.

Mac McCarthy's defense for not answering the subpoena was that he was "frightened" over the furor aroused by the Forney case.

Wealthy Woman Abandons Society For Art Career

(International News Service)
DENVER, June 6.—Frances Kent Lamont, wife of Robert P. Lamont Jr., Colorado rancher and son of the wealthy secretary of commerce has upset the traditions of her conservative New York family and abandoned the gaiety of the social whirl for a career.

Fresh from a fashionable eastern finishing school, she expressed the desire to "snap out of dead storage" and become a sculptor—she wanted no formal social debut as her three sisters had before her, nor the round of gaiety coincident with New York society.

She has to a great extent realized the ambitions for a successful career. On May 17, the Denver Art Museum opened a "one-man" show of hers at Chappell house, stamping its seal of approval on her determination to give up society for a career.

Nor was the Denver exhibit her first artistic success. As Frances Adams Kent, her work was shown in the Arden galleries in New York in groups of animal and garden sculpture with the work of such artists as Paul Manship; in Cleveland at the Gage galleries with the etchings of Hugh Seaver and in Colorado Springs with an exhibit of Edith Farnsworth's. The Pennsylvania Academy in Philadelphia and the Art Institute of Chicago have invited her to exhibit. She is permanently represented in the Cleveland Museum and has several public commissions for war memorials, one of which is at New Canaan, Conn.

Her show in Denver was unique in that it formally introduced her work to Denver and represented the finished work of a woman who had no studio assistant.

"People have slight conception of the actual physical labor involved in a life-sized statue," Mrs. Lamont said recently. "Most women sculptors have young men assistants who do all the heavy work and then they climb up jauntily on a stepladder in velvet trousers after the strenuous bulk is finished, make a few adjustments to the nose and have their photograph taken as the artist of a monumental work.

"In the Denver exhibit, my chief work was the figure of a girl in which I tried to glorify a type that should be more than one type of beauty. We have grown so accustomed to standardized lines laid down by theatrical and mannequin requirements that the American girl who has some substance to her we shut our eyes to.

"She is in my works, however, and I hope people will see the pulchritude that she represents for me. I've done everything but cast this figure and anyone can see that a 100 pound sack of plaster is a little too much for a girl to wield handily."

Mrs. Lamont designed and built the life-sized armature or framework put up the clay, modeled it and after the figure was cast, painted, or colored it entirely alone.

"It's a point of honor with me to do all the dirty work," said Mrs. Lamont. Mrs. Lamont is the daughter of William Winthrop Kent, retired architect and prominent New Yorker. Raised in the lap of luxury to follow the footsteps of her sisters who have had brilliant social achievements in this country and in Europe, her determination as a young girl and her tenacity of purpose since to success in an artistic way, is all the more remarkable.

Blown Through River Bed In Air Bubble

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—"Bubbles—why bubbles are great things."

It's Dick Green, "sand hog," talking. Dick is sand hogging for a building under construction here and he reminisced for the reporter while on the job.

Back in 1905 it was, Dick was working beneath the river bed of East River during the construction of a tunnel for subway trains connecting Brooklyn and Manhattan.

Suddenly an infinitesimal leak appeared in the roof of the workings. It widened rapidly and the air under pressure, rushed for the leak. The air tore a hole through the top and carried Dick with it.

Once through the river bed, the air formed a giant bubble in which Green rose to the surface.

He is one of the few men who ever were blown through the bed of a river and lived to tell of it.

LYNCHINGS IN U. S. REPORTED DECREASING.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 6.—"Lynching is steadily passing out of the picture and is slated for final extinction," according to a statement issued here by the Southern Commission of Interracial Cooperation.

"The number of lynchings in this country has fallen off 88 per cent in the last 11 years from 83 in 1919 to 10 in 1929," says the Commission's statement.

"In the past 43 years American mobs have claimed 4,742 victims or an average of approximately 100 per year. The peak was reached in 1892 with 255 victims in 33 different states. In the last five years the average has been 17 victims per year with 11, lynched in 1928 and 10 in 1929," according to the statement.

The Commission points out that public sentiment has caused the falling off of victims of mob violence. They claim that when the lynchings did occur the fault lay with the officers in charge not taking prompt and reasonable precautions with their prisoners.

"A law in every state automatically retiring any officer from whose custody a prisoner is taken would be immensely helpful and is imperatively needed," the Commission feels.

Town Loses Last Civil War Veteran

(International News Service)
LEADVILLE, Colo., June 6.—This town will be without a Civil War veteran when Memorial Day is observed this year.

N. N. Robertson, 87, the last remaining member of the James A. Garfield Post No. 9, Grand Army of the Republic, died at his home here recently.

During the last two ceremonies, Robertson was the sole representative of the armies who fought in the '60s. The veteran was born at Minot, Me., and grew up on his father's farm. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was rejected several times, but finally was successful in joining the quartermaster's corps at Washington in September, 1864. From that time until the close of the War he saw active service with the Army of the Potomac.

Robertson came to Colorado in 1871 and a few years later came to Leadville.

Maybe the farmer could get cheaper money if he would explain that farming is a genuine gambling game.

Pastor Responsible For 10 New Churches

(International News Service)
PORTALES, N. M., June 6.—The efforts of the Rev. Thomas B. Sowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, have been instrumental in the erection of ten church buildings and four parsonages. He recently saw the completion and dedication of his tenth church, a $50,000 structure, for which he not only raised the money but worked on himself as superintendent of construction, occasionally taking up a saw and hammer when necessary.

The Rev. Sowell always raises the money for his churches and supervises their construction. When necessary, he works on them himself, alongside the laborers.

The Portales church was built under his supervision by day labor at an estimated saving to his congregation of $20,000.

Although Portales is a town of only 2500 the building dedicated here is the largest in the New Mexico conference. The church has a membership of 450.

Rev. Sowell is serving his second year as pastor of the church. He came here from Texas, where most of his other church buildings were erected.

SEEK GRAPE OWNERS AID IN FARM PLAN

(International News Service)
FRESNO, Cal., June 6.—The campaign to sign 85 per cent of California's grape growers under Federal Farm Board's plan for rehabilitation of the industry will be in full swing in all California district shortly, officials of the drive have announced.

A committee of 100 is to be appointed to contract over 2,000 various business men in California cities, who own vineyards in various parts of the state and are not interviewed during the district drives.

At a meeting in one San Joaquin valley district, attended by 100 growers, 99 signed the contract, it was reported.

It's all right for an empire's thumb to say: "You're out." But why does it so often add: "Darn you."

To Donate $250,000 To Washington U.

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—If the Washington University School of Architecture is successful in raising funds for a new building, an anonymous gift of $250,000 will be forwarded to the college. This was the effect of a recent announcement made here.

Sutter's Grandson Is Chief Engineer

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Up the ladder of fame slowly but steadily has climbed Victor Link, grandson of the late Gen. John A. Sutter, one of the distinguished pioneers of the early day California.

Suter made good with a bang in the gold rush days and today his grandson Link potentially is a millionaire through being one of the heirs to his noted grandfather's estate.

But Link wanted to be chief engineer at sea so he started his career as an officer on the old Pacific mail liner Peru and gradually has worked his way up.

When Panama liner Virginia steamed into San Francisco Link was in the chief engineer's cabin. He had laid aside his overalls and monkey wrench and was immaculate in gold braid on blue uniform.

Link had been chief engineer on freighters, on his way up the scale of his elected profession, but the position on the Virginia was his first "big shot," it was stated here.

Link owns many of Gen. Sutter's original possessions including Sutter's certificate of naturalization. Sutter was born in Switzerland and came to the United States settling at Lancaster, Pa., which he left to join in the gold rush to California. He settled at Sacramento, now the capital of California, and old Sutter's Fort on M Street still is one of the state's prize historical places.

Commencement At Grove City College Opens

Farewell Vesper Service In Colonial Marks Beginning Of Exercises

SCHOOL CELEBRATES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 6.—The fiftieth annual Commencement program at Grove City College will get under way this evening when a Farewell Vesper service will be held in the Colonial. Until Wednesday afternoon, June 11th, events are scheduled to fill every minute of the time.

Exercises this year will take on a peculiar significance, in that the class of 1930 is the first to be graduated. Grove City College was empowered to grant degrees in 1876, but the first class was not graduated until 1890. Previous to that time, the institution was known as Pine Grove Academy. The half-century class, according to present totals, will number 109 members.

Baccalaureate Sunday
Mrs. Lois Cory-Thompson, Dean of Women, will deliver the Baccalaureate address Sunday evening in the First Presbyterian church. Doctor Odell is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Sewickley.

The traditional ceremony of planting the ivy will be held on the campus at 2:30 p. m. Monday. The address for the occasion will be made by Samuel Edgar Downer, 00, superintendent of Lower Merion Township Schools, Ardmore, Pa. From 3 to 5 in the afternoon an art exhibition will be held in the studio, and the Music Commencement will be held in Carnegie Auditorium at 8 p. m.

Commencement Wednesday
Tuesday's activities open at 7 p. m. with the Philokalian Breakfast in Lovers' Lane. At 10, Class Day exercises will be held in the Old Presbyterian church. Simultaneously, the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held. Action on a proposed building program is expected at this time. In the afternoon, the Crimson Masque will present Shakespeare's "As You Like It" as an outdoor performance. President W. C. Ketter will receive the graduates at his home in the evening.

Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools, will deliver the Commencement address at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the First Presbyterian church. Degrees will be conferred on the graduating class, and honorary degrees will be granted to a number of men prominent in education. The week's events will conclude with the alumni luncheon at 12:30 p. m.

HIGH SCHOOL CREATES "ORDER OF THE BATH"
PORTERVILLE, Pa., June 6.—The local high school board may be credited with the new saying: "A bath a day keeps low marks away." Believing that there is nothing so stimulating as a good bath, the board members have issued an edict ordering all Porterville high school students to take a bath at the school daily.

The ruling will become effective with the opening of school next fall. It is estimated that between 800 and 1,000 towels will be added to the daily high school laundry bill as a result of the "Order of the Bath."

Europe, it is reported, is taking up the idea of radio spelling bees which originated in America. No doubt some of the stuff we thought was superstitious was actually the broadcast of a Russian contest.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS,
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

There is nothing new in the freezing of meat to preserve and ship it. Indeed, it is a very old idea, and the Eskimo hunters and housewives have been doing it, no doubt, since the Ice Age.

But the latest variation on frozen meats is decidedly new, and it looks as if some of our familiar customs and methods were consequently about to go into oblivion.

You have seen and read something of the new freezing process, no doubt. The new element in it is that the fresh meat is frozen very quickly and very hard—taking less than an hour instead of a day or more to reach the necessary temperature.

In this condition it is shipped from the packing house, passed through the distributing house to the retail shop, goes home in the housewife's basket still frozen hard, and only thaws out in the family refrigerator just in time to cook for dinner.

And that is by no means all, or even the biggest change. The plan is to have the cutting up of the meat carcasses done at the packing plant before the pieces are frozen.

Steaks, roasts, legs of lamb, veal cutlets, loin of pork, chops, liver and sweetbreads will all be cut up by the most skilled cutters, sealed up in transparent wrappers, and never touched again by hand until ready to cook in the buyer's kitchen.

If that is not a revolution in methods, I never heard of one. For one thing, the local butcher with his straw hat, apron, saw and cleaver and knives will be a thing of the past.

Any ordinary sales clerk, perhaps a pretty young girl in a neat uniform, will receive your order for a six-pound roast, get it off the six-pound shelf in the cold room, hand it to you like a cake of soap, and away you go, home.

For another thing—and this is where the farmer who raises the livestock is concerned—the packing house will keep all the bones, excess fat, and trimmings from the meat. The packers can use them profitably where the local butcher usually cannot.

Furthermore, the packer will have to ship only salable meat, not these waste materials, thereby saving freight and express costs. And by separating the best cuts from the cheaper ones, the packer can deliver to each retail store only the kind and amounts of the different cuts that the customers of that shop want and are able to buy.

The question remains, of course, as to who will get the benefit of these savings and improved methods. If it should be the meat packers only, neither farmers nor consumers would be very enthusiastic.

As a matter of theory, if the packers can make considerably more profit out of this, they would be wise to give a part of it to consumers, in the form of lower prices on meat, and another part to the stockman, in the form of higher prices on his animals.

That would make the most people happy, the only exceptions being the retail butchers, no doubt. And it is by no means unlikely that it is just what the packing houses would do.

For say what you like about the packers, they are a long-headed crowd, who have learned their business through long and often sad experience.

FARM CALENDAR
Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Keep Turkeys From Pests—Artificial brooding of turkeys is a means of avoiding worms, lice, mites, and possibly blackhead, if the poulters are kept away from infected areas.

Thin Some Apples—Fruit thinning is more profitable on trees carrying an excessively heavy crop than on those where the set is slightly more than what is wanted. The return is likely to be greater on fancy varieties like Jonathan and McIntosh than on Ben Davis and Baldwin.

Grow Ton Litters—Good breeding stock and care are ton litter principles which should help to grow any litter of nine or more pigs to a weight of 2000 pounds at six months of age.

Control Sheep Pests—Dipping the sheep flock after shearing will save feed later because the operation will kill lice and ticks which annoy the lambs and keep them from making proper gains. Any good coal tar preparation or stock dip can be used.

Get Latest Information—Farmers' Week and Dairy Exposition at State College, June 17 to 19, will present a complete program of farm and home information. Entertainment will be provided in addition to the educational features.

Plant Succession Crops—As soon as the early garden crops are harvested, succession plantings can be made without interfering with the crops which will occupy adjoining ground all the season.

Support Large Peonies—It is sometimes necessary to stake up the larger flowering peonies. This may be done by a support which will encircle the whole plant.

Repair Grain Binder—Now is the time to inspect the binder for needed repairs. If the knottor hook is rusty, polish it with fine emery paper.

Asserts Only Hard Work Brings Glory

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
LONDON, June 6.—Looking back on 70 years of life, virtually 60 of which have been spent on the stage, Edward Hugh Sothern, grand old man of the American stage, has reached the conclusion that acting is not a gift.

"It can only be acquired by endless hard work," he told International News Service in an interview here.

Sothern is enroute to Switzerland to join his wife, Julia Marlowe, the actress. Both have permanently retired from the stage and intend to spend their remaining years in ease and contentment, far from the bustle of the footlights.

And he has a deal of wisdom to impart about the infinitely fascinating, toilsome business of acting.

"No more acting for me, or for Miss Marlowe. We are neither of us so young as we were," he said.

"There is only one way to be a great actor," he mused, "and that is by endless hard work. I have done my share of hard work, and I want to spend my declining years away from it."

"The reason why there have been so few supremely great actors in history is the infinite, incredible labor and hardship that is involved."

"The good actor, with attractive presence and voice, can easily take the soft road, scoring successes and making plenty of money in pleasant modern plays."

"But that is not the road to greatness. That road lies through unrelenting work in stock companies, watching good acting, studying it, working out a few great parts for 20 years, perhaps, and, with the opportunity, the true accomplishment that can make use of it."

"The audience, the critic, never see the work behind the great performance, and that is why it should be. They would be bored, depressed, disgusted at the spectacle of the sort of rehearsal that goes on until 5 a. m. its heart-breaking humiliation and drudgery."

"The actor endures it all because if he is a great man, he cannot help it. There is only one thing he wants to do in life, and that is to play the great parts greatly."

"For that he will endure anything, if only it can teach him something about his job. He will go out into the provinces and play small parts for 20 years, perhaps."

Sir Henry Irving was 40 when he made his first really big success," Sothern pointed out.

He believes there is some danger of the old drama disappearing owing to the modern tendency to enjoy light, frivolous plays in which bedroom scenes occupy the limelight.

"Fortunately, however, there will always be actors who want to play Shakespeare. Just think of Hamlet, a part which is infinite. It will have an eternal, irresistible fascination for actors, just because the last word about it can never be said."

Erie Laborer Is Victim Of Suicide

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., June 6.—Police were puzzled today in ascribing a motive for the suicide of Frank Di Buono, 35, a laborer, here last night.

Buono had retired but arose during the night, procured his pistol, and shot himself through the head. Death was instantaneous.

His widow and four children, who survive, could give no cause for his act.

LINDY'S FATHER-IN-LAW IS AIR-MINDED CAMPAIGNER

It's generally conceded that Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, has the edge on the other senatorial aspirants in New Jersey when it comes to getting transportation to and from his meetings, and the plane of his son-in-law, Colonel Lindbergh, is at his disposal. Photos show Morrow and Lindbergh ready to take off to fulfill a speaking engagement and characteristic poses of Ambassador Morrow.

Not All Forty-Niners Were Typical Bad Men

(International News Service)
COLOMA, Cal., June 6.—Fiction may portray the California Argonaut as a Hell-roarin' bad man, but not all of those who came west in quest of gold in '49 were cut-throats.

Within a few yards of where James W. Marshall found gold in 1848, the congregation of the El Dorado Mission of the Methodist church recently celebrated its eightieth anniversary here.

Isaac Owen, a famous pioneer preacher, presided at the organization of the congregation on April 22, 1850, and the congregation has a history of continuous organization dating from that time.

Sheriff And Citizen Exchange Laughs

(International News Service)
ELYRIA, Ohio, June 6.—The adage "he who laughs last laughs best," has been proved here in the form of a dry raid.

Sheriff Clarence Adams laughed heartily when August Yarkowski, of Grafton, was fined $500 for possession of liquor. He was arrested during a "cleanup" raid on speakeasies.

Two weeks previous, the sheriff raided Yarkowski's place unsuccessfully, and it was reported that the alleged speakeasy proprietor laughed about the officer's failure.

"He who laughs last laughs best," Sheriff Adams repeats.

Tires Conquer Wall In "Stunt" Collision

(International News Service)
AKRON, Ohio, June 5.—Captain Dick Grace, widely known movie stunt thriller and daredevil deluxe landed in an Akron hospital after one of his stunts here demonstrating the durability of automobile tires.

Captain Grace drove a special built automobile equipped with special made tires, in a spectacular collision with a brick and concrete wall at the rubber company athletic field.

English Is Favorite With French Students

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 6.—English is the favorite language of the large majority of French students these days. German has been and still is very much in disfavor since the signing of the armistice.

In 1917, statistics showed that 77 per cent of the students selected German for their language, against three who preferred English. Today, 63 per cent are for English and the remainder for German. The same percentage is the rule for pupils in the secondary schools.

Exactly the contrary was true after the close of the war of 1870. At that time, everything turned German. The saying was that "the German teacher had conquered France" and there was more truth than poetry in the saying. In all educational establishments, German was of greatest importance and very little English was studied.

Mexican Air Firm To Have Student Rate

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, June 6.—Mexican students attending schools in the United States will be afforded an opportunity to see Mexico from the air when they return to their native land for the summer vacation.

to see that the children arrived safely home.

The homecoming students will board planes at Brownsville, Tex., and be delivered to their native city by the aviation company.

For ten months from July 1, 1929, to April 30, last, 1,738 death claims have been filed with the labor department as compared with 1,550 for the same period the previous year.

NEGRO FINED FOR ATTACKING ANOTHER

J. A. Smith, Negro, boarding boss at 929 1/2 Moravia street, ran up to Officers Thomas and H. E. Richards at Moravia and Home streets last night, and told them that William Hyman, a negro boarder, had just attempted to carve up a fellow boarder. Smith had the penknife used and turned it over to the officers. The officers investigated and found that the man attacked had a slight wound on the back. ## What was the Boxer rebellion?

The Boxer rebellion took place in June, 1900, and was a physical outburst of feeling by the Chinese against the foreigners who were occupying so many of the Chinese seaport cities and claiming them as their own. The Boxers were organized ostensibly for the practice of athletics but really to rid China of the foreigners. The rebellion centered around Peking where the legations of the foreigners were besieged and many people killed. It was not until August that the armies of the besieged people were able to break through to their rescue. China paid a huge indemnity to the nations involved but lost no land.

Has the occupational character of immigration changed any since the passage of the "quota" immigration acts?

According to the United States department of labor there has been a marked change. In the four years before the war, 1911-1914, there were three times as many unskilled laborers admitted into the United States as there were skilled laborers, but in the years 1925 and 1926, the average number of skilled was virtually the same as the number of the unskilled laborers.

How many telephones are operated in the United States by the Bell Telephone company?

The American Telephone & Telegraph company estimates that there were 19,197,035 'phones in operation in 1929, requiring 334,335 people to render the service to the public and 62,192,744 miles of wire to carry the service, which was estimated at 59,035,000 cars per day.

Is there a slot machine for selling insurance?

In Germany there is such a machine where a traveler may insure himself for one or two days at 25 to 12 cents. When he receives his accident policy, in the form of a card, the apparatus receives an imprint of his thumb which is used for identification purposes in case he makes a claim. The machines are found in most of the larger railroad stations. There have been some similar machines in the United States—but without the finger prints.

About how much is the British pound worth in our money?

Widening North Street Discussed

Council Considers Matter In East To Neshannock Avenue Repaving

Council today convened in the city building studied two ordinances which were in committee and reported them favorably. Among them was the bill which provides for the paving of the unpaved portion of North street between East street and Neshannock avenue.

In August, 1927, council passed an ordinance providing for the widening of the carway between East street and Neshannock avenue and Jefferson and Shenango streets to 30 feet. The present width, according to city officials is 25 feet. It is planned to place the present curbs back two and a half feet on each side.

Referring to this measure Councilman Burns asked if it would not be best to do the work by the benefit rather than the foot front rule of assessing costs and expenses.

He said that in 1893 permission was given to a property-owner to complete a house and the city engineer instructed to discontinue proceedings when a property-owner desired to project the house into North street.

Burns developed the city was sued for damages but this matter was later adjusted. He said the property concerned is known as the McKee property.

"In view of those facts the owner has a license which is revocable," ruled City Solicitor White. "The property has no right in a public street. The action shows the city maintained its right then."

Burns said the city has no ordinance establishing the street but the city maps show that the city provided for the laying of sidewalks. North street was paved in 1895.

He said the grade was fixed and he believed the improvement should be made under the benefit system.

White thought not. He said that under the foot front rule it places the burden on the property owners.

Burns desires to escape as much damages as possible, he explained and White replied that "the situation has to be worked out."

The other ordinance reported from committee favorably was one providing for the grading and paving of North Ray street between the end of the present paving and Croton Avenue (or the hill).

Princeton Book Contains Names Of Famous Figures

(International News Service) PRINCETON, N. J. June 6.—Signatures of princes, presidents, scholars and statesmen decorate the guest-room kept at "Prospect" home of John Grier Hibben since his inauguration in 1912 as president of Princeton University. The book contains the names of many of the world's notables who have visited Princeton and have been the guests of its president.

Most interesting among the entries in the year 1912 is one by William Howard Taft, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Taft wrote "I was able to spend a most happy day in the academic shades of the most beautiful University in America." Several noted scholars visited "Prospect" in the same year, among them William Dean Howells, the Dean of American Letters and Sir Henry Jones, Professor of Philosophy at Glasgow.

The following year, Henri Bergson, the French philosopher, added his signature along with a brief statement on the subject of philosophy. The world of letters was further represented by Alfred Noyes, English poet and former member of the Princeton faculty, who inscribed four lines of his "Oxford revisited."

William Howard Taft again visited Princeton in the same year when he was given an honorary degree. Other names are those of Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador who was similarly honored, Ellhu Root and Theodore Roosevelt.

G. M. Trevelyan, the English historian, was among the visitors in 1915 along with Walter Raleigh, professor of English at Oxford and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. The name of General Leonard Wood was added in 1916.

Many figures prominent in world affairs signed in 1917, the year that Princeton gave honorary degrees to the Ambassadors of all the Allied nations represented at Washington. Among the names are those of Jusserand, Cecil, Spring, Rice, Atle of Italy and E. M. DeCartier of Belgium. Others are Robert Lansing, secretary of state, and Herbert Hoover.

Theodore Roosevelt appears again in 1918, his signature being visibly weaker than that of the year before.

In 1921 the outstanding signatures are those of Albert Einstein, Cardinal Mercier and Marshall Poch. Later in the year Lord and Lady Bryce and George W. Wickersham, present chairman of the commission studying law enforcement, also visited "Prospect."

President Harding and Calvin Coolidge were visitors in 1922 as were Abbe Dimmet, Cord Robert Cecil, noted for his work with the League of Nations, and Andrew Mellon. A note from Joseph H. Choate, expressed his pleasure in visiting Princeton again. Charles Evans Hughes and John W. Davis both received honorary degrees in 1924 while Michael Pupin was one of the most interesting visitors. Pupin recalled that years before he had come to Princeton as a tramp and had sat under the tree on the campus near Nassau street to eat lunch which he carried with him.

The field of international politics is represented in 1924 by the names of Timothy Smiddy, first minister of the Irish Free State, Prince Paul of Greece, Alexander Kerensky who was one time president of the Russian Republic and General John J. Pershing.

Several royal families have been received at "Prospect." In June 1926 his Royal Highness Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden came to Princeton and was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of laws.

The Crown Prince was accompanied by Crown Princess Louise. While he was examining the art museum, the Crown Princess heard an undergraduate jazz band playing and asked to see the instruments. The undergraduates gladly played for the party and were much appreciated.

Later the royal party asked to see an undergraduate's room and without further ado were ushered into a room in Holder Court much to the surprise of two students engaged in cramming for exams.

The fall of 1928 brought to Princeton Don Alfonso of Orleans, infant of Spain, and his wife, the Infanta Beatriz. More recent visitors to Princeton have been Jacob Gould Schurman, formerly Ambassador to Germany, and Sir Esme Howard, Ambassador from Great Britain. Last year's commencement added the following names: Walter Damrosch, Jno. D. Rockefeller Jr., and J. Piermont Morgan.

Tea Drinking Gains In America

(International News Service) NEW YORK, June 6.—The American soda fountain having gained a foothold in England, John Bull has answered the challenge by introducing the joys of tea drinking to the soda fountains in America, according to L. Beling, India Tea Commissioner here.

A survey made by the India Tea Bureau reveals that soda fountains all over the country are reporting a growing popularity in tea drinking, especially amongst the younger generation. The English custom of afternoon tea is developing rapidly in this country with the corner soda fountain serving as the nucleus, Beling said.

Try To Ban Dancing At School Reception

(International News Service) TULARE, Cal., June 6.—A compromise in the controversy over the question of whether or not dancing would be permitted at the local high school junior-senior reception was effected when a committee of school board members, members of the faculty and student body, met and agreed to have dancing for those who wished to dance, a theatre party for those who wished to attend the theatre and other entertainment for those who did not care to do either.

The local ministerial union had asked the school board to ban dancing at the reception. The board and town split on the question and the compromise resulted.

Producer Sees Low Comedy As Crying Need Of Movies

By FREDERICK A. CHASE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 6.—The screen's biggest need is more low comedy. That is the opinion of Jesse L. Lasky, the high priest of Paramount pictures. Low comedy has an elemental appeal that cannot be ignored in the show business, Lasky believes, in spite of all the current talk of a more serious trend of public taste.

"I do not mean we must return to the pie-throwing days. But we must not forget that audiences always will demand more comedy than tragedy." Rarely does a film with this elemental appeal of comedy "flop." A first-class serious picture is twice as much worry to the producers as a hilarious comedy. Maybe that's why the best comedians are able to dictate their own salaries, while many a first-rate actor of serious roles sits around the house waiting for a studio call.

Mutt was a great disappointment to everyone except his mother, a shaggy, sad-eyed Sealham terrier, when he was born. His mother thought as much of him as she did of the rest of her pedigree litter of five, but Mutt had all the faults and none of the good points of a first-class show dog, and he was a great sorrow to his owner. The four other puppies were perfect.

Now Mutt is playing star parts in the movies, while his brothers and sisters pitter around in obscurity. Instead of blue ribbons, Mutt gets pay checks. Discarded because he was too heavy, not the right color, and misshapen for show purposes, Mutt was sold to Henry East. With the director's traditional ability to sense great dramatic ability, East "discovered" Mutt and put him in a picture at the age of six months.

Mutt has been an actor four years now. He is working with Moran and Mack in "Anybody's War," considered to have the biggest dog part of the year. Mutt appeared with Clara Bow in "Hula" and with Bebe Daniels in "Stranded in Paris."

Odd jobs are just that in Hollywood, and when a pool of bullfrogs were having choir practice at the same time a picture was being made the other night, a troop of assistants was assigned to throw rocks into the pool to keep the croakers quiet. An assistant never knows what he is going to do next, and it is no wonder that when an actor was told to put a twinkle in his eye, a flunkie went out to the property department looking for a couple of twinkles.

Florence Leftwich, wife of Alexander Leftwich has been in town assembling a musical comedy cast. She says that road shows should originate here and then go to New York, as opposed to the present state of things. "Los Angeles and its environs is replete with talent, and there is no reason smart revues cannot be worked up and opened out here on the coast. Broadway has been too much of a dictator in the road show business."

The local Chamber of Commerce is deeply appreciative.

Donates Trophy For Junior Aviators

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 6.—Spurred by the successful flights of Richard James, 17, and Frank Goldsborough, 19, two of America's junior aviators, who have made solo flights from coast to coast, Col. A. A. Anderson, internationally known artist, sportsman and aviation enthusiast, has, at the suggestion of the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation, donated a trophy to be known as the Colonel A. A. Anderson Junior Aviation Trophy, which will be competed for yearly by America's junior aviators in a flight from Los Angeles to New York.

Tells Hoover Just What He Requires

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, June 6.—"President Hoover needs a dash of Mussolini." This statement was ringing throughout the St. Louis Ethical Society and its reaches today as a result of a speech made here lately by Percival Chubb, leader of the society, before the State Dental Association. "Washington is nothing at present but a furor of mediocrity," Chubb is reported to have added.

California Town Has Garden Contest

(International News Service)
CARMEL, Cal., June 6.—Let the rest of the world keep its bathing beauty contest, its flag pole sitting contests, its marathon dances and what have you. All this village asks is to enjoy its garden contest in its own quiet little way. Recently this village held its first garden contest for a silver cup awarded by the local women's club. Artists discarded their brushes for the hoe, novelists folded up their smoking typewriters for the spade and Carmel's fairest women weeded lawns and gazed stargazed on each new rose-bud that came into the great world.

"Catches" Own Son With Fish Hooks

(International News Service)
KERNAN, Cal., June 6.—"Never hank your fish-hooks on a clothes line." This was the advice given today by H. L. Scott, Kernan rancher. Scott made a "catch" but it was his three year old son, who was caught. A large hook was removed from the child's ear by Dr. J. C. Drake at Kernan. The lad was chasing his dog when he became entangled in the net.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

This is the one day of school that get a full attendance, for the youngsters stay but a short time and get their promotion cards. No books, no recitations, nothing but a few good-byes to teachers and cards for next year. And then three months of fishing, loafing, gardening, or what do you suggest.

Of all the teaching staff of the New Castle schools, it seems to me that Miss Emilie Salomon, art supervisor, will have probably the most interesting vacation. The young lady sails tomorrow for the other side and a look at her itinerary looks like the compilation of the interesting places in Europe. No trains for her, she is taking her car with her and will motor over Europe.

It's an arty way of doing things, but I'm wondering how she will get along in Venice with the flivver.

The tickets are out for the big mushball game and athletic show for the Jameson Memorial hospital on June 27. According to Wes Davy, the chairman of the benefit, there will be no free list, no dead heads if you get the idea.

Everybody inside the fence that night will have a ticket, and this applies to press and pulpit alike. Even the players will have tickets and the ticket takers, the correspondents and the candy butchers. For once the crowd will be 100 per cent pay, and the proceeds then go to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

From the interest manifest in mushball this season, there should be a crowd. At the Lehigh-Tin Mill game last night there were some 600 people present and these folks will certainly be present for the big night game. Get your tickets early and be a booster for the game. It will be a big night, a worthy cause and a lot of fun. All for a two-bit note.

Be brief. Not how quickly Garbo made a name for herself after dropping the long one she started with. The increase in divorce isn't so puzzling if you reflect that the movies set the fashions.

Sleeping Sickness Kills Old Rancher

(International News Service)
EL CENTRO, Cal., June 6.—Doctors today were puzzled over the death apparently from sleeping sickness, of John Doss, 67, who for 20 years had operated his ranch near Calipatria. Doss' symptoms were said to be similar to those of the African tropical malady. Prior to his coma Doss had never been sick a day, friends said.

VIENNA, June 6.—This month saw the summer opening of the outdoor bathing places with which Vienna and its environs are teeming. Swimming and water sports in general is one of the most popular sports in Austria. Last year nearly 2,000,000 people visited the bathing places in Vienna. The city alone operates five swimming pools, 22 public baths, 29 children's baths, and five steam baths. The pools are used day and night with a constant program of swimming championship matches throughout the whole year.

County Committee Of Republican Party As Shown By Tabulation

William A. Eakin, chairman of the Republican county committee, has prepared a list of committeemen chosen at the recent election. In checking over the returns it was found that a tie vote had resulted in a number of districts.

There are two committeemen to be elected in each precinct. In a few of the precincts none were elected and the vacancies will have to be filled upon the organization of the new committee.

In order to decide the tie vote in the precincts in which it was cast the county commissioners have fixed Saturday at 10 a. m. daylight savings time, at which candidates may meet at the commissioners office to determine by lot who is elected.

HEALTH PROBLEM IS SOLVED FOR MANY

They Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Daily

Constipation is the most common menace to health today. It is extremely dangerous in itself and is the source of many other complicating ailments. There is no permanent relief in pills and drugs. Many of them are dangerous.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve and to prevent both temporary and recurring constipation. If it does not, money will be refunded.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. And roughage in food helps eliminate the possibility of constipation. Most modern foods do not contain roughage. Two tablespoonsfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily is the proper amount. In recurring cases, ALL-BRAN should be eaten with each meal. It is an essential in any reducing diet. In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains iron, the blood builder. It is the original ALL-BRAN, proved effective by millions and recommended by physicians.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has an appetizing flavor. Eat it with milk or cream, in cereals and fruit juices, in soups and in cooked foods. Your grocer has ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MISTRESS AND SERVANT
They're very rich, so I am told.
And being poisoned by their gold;
In anger often they condemn
The timid girl who works for them.

She waits upon them, day by day,
And hears whatever they may say.
But while she serves them food and drinks
She makes no sign of what she thinks.

They've trained her well to mind her place
And keep an unresponsive face;
For anything she sees or hears
There must be neither smiles nor tears.

No thought from them she's ever had
Save in the service good or bad.
Being a servant, she's compelled
Beneath their notice to be held.

They think her common, but I fear
They'd startled be if they could hear
The girl they scornfully condemn
With equal scorn discussing them.

They'd be surprised to know that she Above them holds herself to be,
And thinks her manners better far
Than those of her employers are.

"Cousin" Fleeces Banker Of $2,000

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 6.—Samuel B. Sklar, 38, of Minneapolis, Minn. lost a two months' fight, to prevent extradition, when he landed in the Greensburg jail today to face a charge of false pretense.

Sklar is wanted for victimizing

Samuel Miller, Greensburg banker, out of $2,000 through his misrepresentations that he was a cousin of the Greensburg man.

Miller was persuaded by him to finance a plan for the transfer of valuable chemical laboratories from Minnesota to Greensburg.

ALBANY, June 6.—Two million young trout will be planted in the streams of New York State this year by the conservation department.

Many small trout streams in the state were dried up in last summer's drought. Extra large fingerlings are being placed in these streams this year.

Reports received by the conservation department from all sections of the state are that trout fishing has been unusually good this spring.

Famed Palmer Mansion Views One Last Fling Before It Fades Away

Mrs. CHAS. KING CORSANT Mrs. EDWARD ROGERS FIFIELD Mrs. MORRIS L. JOHNSTON

THE POTTER PALMER RESIDENCE

By FRANK J. CIPRIANI
Central Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 6.—Famed throughout the world, the old Potter Palmer mansion, which for half a century epitomized society, fades away in a final flare of glory.

It is no longer news that the stately brown castle overlooking the lake is to be torn down by wreckers to make room for a $25,000,000 hotel. Chicago learned of that more than a year ago, and accepted the announcement in the spirit that the old must give way to the new.

Not that Chicago didn't care. It did, and still does, for the Palmer palace has been a showplace and landmark here since 1880, when kings and queens of society throughout the world first deigned to recognize local aristocracy.

It was in the Palmer residence that Chicago society was born, that the city first knew society. And so there is a sentimental tear in the civic eye over the demolition of this grand home.

Open House

But before wreckers invade the sacred halls, arrangements were made for one last fling, on June 6-7, a colorful revel restoring accustomed gaiety and atmosphere—with "all" Chicago there.

It was likewise arranged to have the open house a veritable carnival, with ferris wheels, slides, cane racks, tin-type galleries, African dodgers, fortune teller's booth, and even red-hot stands. A jazz orchestra was engaged to do its syncopating stuff where once only chamber music was played.

All this is for the benefit of a little haven, known as the Red, White and Blue club, situated in a sordid district. The club was formed during the war to provide for service men's children. Today it has expanded, until hundreds of youngsters, growing in an environment of crime, are under the club's wings, and aided to a better life. The club is comprised of society women, and the proceeds of the carnival will go entirely to the club cause.

Club's Personnel

Among the women are Mrs. Edward Rogers Fifield, president; Mrs. Morris L. Johnston, Mrs. Roy D. Keelin, Mrs. Warren Ripple, Mrs. Charles King Corsant, Mrs. Clair More, Mrs. Lockwood Honore Mrs. William M. Scudder and Mrs. Charles E. Frankenthal.

Perhaps, as one retrospective soul wrote in picturing the carnival, if the ivy-grown walls of the old mansion ever dream, they will have a veritable nightmare.

But probably the grandest soul of them all, Mrs. Potter Palmer, queen of Chicago society, whose vacated throne has never since boasted a successor, would, if she could look down from that Nirvana where blood has no caste, smile and say: "What could be a more perfect ending?"

Odd Fellows Pick Harrisburg Place For 1931 Sessions

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 6.—Harrisburg was selected Thursday as the meeting place for the 1931 convention of the Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania, independent order of Odd Fellows.

Conneaut Lake was ruled out and Altoona withdrew its bid. The Rebekah assembly will meet at the same time in Harrisburg.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, June 6.—Training dogs to lead blind and maimed men about the city is an established business here. There is one animal accompanying a legless cripple who pushes himself along on a low platform with the dog making a passage through the crowds. Another stands in front of the Hippodrome with a fox-terrier sitting on its hunches the biggest part of the day. The income of these blind beggars is large, but the dogs are seldom owned by them. So well trained are the canines that they will lead any blind man or cripple through the thickest traffic with seldom an accident.

The dogs were first introduced here from Germany, where they are now improving on the scheme by attaching lights to the animals so they can be used at night.

EXODUS.
One hundred years from now Manhattan will only be a business island, with people spending enough time here to get through their duties of the day, and then back to suburbia. A population of more than 200,000 has been lost to the borough since 1920, according to the recent census. The East Side, downtown and the midtown sections, where business is slowly creeping in and crowding out home-dwellers, is the cause. From the battery to 18th St., from the East to the Hudson rivers and from 18th to 55th Sts., between 2d and 3d Aves., formerly the most densely populated sections of the city, there are now only 430,000 inhabitants against 668,105 in 1920.

The exodus is into other boroughs of the Greater City where there are modern plumbing and more light in less expensive apartments.

Adler's Book Shop in East Fifty-second street is sending out catalogues and listed it notice "Scared and Profane Love." The typesetter who transposed "scared" into "scared" builded better than he knew.

HORSE FEVER.
New York has gone racing mad. If it had the craze in seasons past, it has developed into a fever this Summer. Every corner group on Broadway, not discussing prohibition or itself, is talking about the horses. In every other cigar store the proprietor runs a pool room in his hat where hundreds of $2 bets are made daily.

Suburban Day saw one of the largest crowds of its existence at Belmont Park. Besides excellent racing, there was a fashion parade of models from Fifth Avenue establishments. The grand stand and the space in front of it was crowded with the herd, the Field and Turf Club enclosure, and the paddock saw society at its best and the course that Lord Derby two weeks ago called "the most beautiful in the world" had all the coloring of a Continental resort.

It is quite probable that when Gallant Fox, winner of The Preakness and Kentucky Derby meets Whiccone, the unbeaten Whitney three-year-old, a record crowd for American racing will be established.

BOOTLEG SWANK.

Eddie Tatham, who has been bootlegging, with an Oxford accent, to Park Ave. dowagers and debutantes, is in the toils. Naturally Mayfair is somewhat shocked that its favorite wine agent has run afoul of the law. So the swanky prisoner will have to "take the rap," while the Supreme Court protects the gray-haired matrons and blonde buds who bought his stuff.

If Eddie's liquor is responsible for some of the doings of Park Avenue at its parties, or when it steps out in the night clubs, then it seems to me, as an accessory after the fact, Eddie is guilty of about all the crimes on the calendar.

Park Avenue does not carry its liquor any better than Tenth Avenue.

Moanin' Moe is all excited. He has just heard that $1 book has been to be on the market and he thinks he bought his book too soon.

SKIN DEEP.

Up in Harlem where the blacks fall for anything that will take the kinks out of their hair, and the females spend as much money as their white sisters for beauty treatments, fakirs are reaping a harvest with a preparation to whiten the skins of the ladies of color.

Whites have gone into the district and are cleaning up fortunes where formerly the beauty potions were only turned out by wise colored folks who have long since retired and are resting on their bank rolls.

WRITES OPUS, THEN RETURNS STOLEN "MILL"

(International News Service)
PORTERSVILLE, Cal., June 6.—It may have been conscience. Then again, it may have been that the thief had finished his "opus." At any rate a portable typewriter stolen from Rev. M. R. Ely of the local Christian church six months ago was mysteriously returned to his study recently.

Rev. Ely wasted no time in pondering over what prompted it to be returned. He cleaned it up, oiled it, and was delighted when he found that it worked satisfactorily.

STOPS PAIN

From coast to coast men and women are singing the praise of "Anti-Pain Oil"—a most powerful, penetrating, pain-relieving liniment. It will penetrate thickest sores in a few minutes. Mrs. B. Werner, New Orleans, La., writes, "Thanks to your wonderful penetrating oil, I relieved me of Rheumatism and deep-seated cold after other remedies failed."

I had rheumatism so bad I had to walk on crutches for nine years, says H. C. Hendrix, old soldier of Minneapolis, Minn. "After three months' treatment with 'Anti-Pain Oil' I laid off my crutches and now can walk like a boy."

J. B. Moore, Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, says, "Anti-Pain Oil" is the only liniment that ever gave me relief from rheumatism. I use it regularly after being exposed to bad weather. For rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, stiff joints, pain in back and limbs, corns, bunions, chest colds, sore throat "Anti-Pain Oil" is said to be without equal.

NORMAL HEALTH RESTORED BY NEW MEDICINE

Dentist Recommends Ten Herbs As System Cleanser

Ten Herbs, the amazing new herbal medicine with the ten natural ingredients, again demonstrates its remarkable power to relieve ills. Why go on suffering from stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, rheumatism, neuritis or nervousness, when you can secure health and happiness by using Ten Herbs? Let this famous medicine do for you what it has already done for thousands.

"It was like a miracle the way my general health improved after using Ten Herbs," said Mr. Peter Gosselin, 23 E. Hooker St., Springfield, Mass. "It went right to the source of my troubles, cleansed the poisons from my system and restored a normal state of health."

"For the past several years my entire system has been in a terrible state caused from poisons from my teeth. My stomach was weak and food did not digest properly. My appetite was poor. Foods would ferment and form gas which would bloat me and cause distress. Gas crowded around my heart causing it to palpitate rapidly. My liver was sluggish causing dizzy spells. Excessive acid in the stomach would rise up in my throat. I usually felt weak and had no ambition. I suffered from constipation and had taken all kinds of pills to correct this trouble."

"The dentist who treated my teeth recommended Ten Herbs to me as a system cleanser."

"My stomach has been fine ever since. I can eat foods that I would not dare eat before. My appetite is normal; my stomach is stronger and my foods digest the way they should. I am no longer troubled with gas, or bloating, and my heart feels better. I am no longer troubled with excessive acid. I now feel stronger and full of ambition. My bowels are regular. My nerves feel better and I can get a good night's rest."

"Your medicine will do everything which you claim for it and I am glad to be able to recommend it to other sufferers."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington St., this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Authority Discusses Cancer

Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, professor of clinical surgery, Johns Hopkins university, famous surgeon and international authority on cancer, will be the guest speaker for the Lawrence County Medical society, June 13th at the New Castle Field Club.

Dr. Bloodgood has written a series of articles for the press on cancer, the first of which follows and one will appear in these columns each day for five days.

Article III
Cancer of the Skin and Mouth are Preventable Diseases.

The correct information in regard to cancer given the press by the medical profession for the protection of the people has proved this:

An individual ignorant and uninformed in the regard to the skin defects and sore spots in the mouth delays, when warned, and seeks advice when the spot on the skin or in the mouth is so large or so painful that no instruction is needed on the necessity of asking a doctor to see it. These people run the risk of cancer in 80 per cent and the chance of a cure are not more than 10 percent. The contrast in encouraging. The enlightened individual who pays immediate attention to any unusual place in the mouth or on the skin will always seek aid before cancer has developed. Today due chiefly to the publication in the daily press, the incidence of cancer of the skin and the mouth has been reduced from more than 80 percent to less than 15, and the cures of cancer have been increased from less than 15 to more than 70 per cent.

In my experience, a beautiful woman, correctly informed, or not rarely if ever, suffers from cancer of the skin or mouth. Such a person pays attention immediately to any spot on the skin, and takes such good care of her teeth that even if she smokes she keeps her teeth so clean that chronic irritation, the cause of cancer of the mouth, is prevented.

There is not a doubt that cancer of the skin is a disease of ignorance, dirt and neglect. By this knowledge we have already protected thousands of people. How can we get this protection to millions? The older we grow, the greater the danger of development of cancer, in an area of irritation, the greater the danger of picking a scab off an unhealed sore on the skin, the greater the danger of dirty, ragged teeth, or ill fitting plates, the greater the danger of neglecting black moles or warts, the greater the danger of little nodules beneath the skin or beneath the lining of the mouth.

This information should be given to children in the primary schools. When the children are instructed of the danger of getting dirt in a fresh cut, they will realize later in life the danger in cancer in an unhealed sore. Children can be taught oral hygiene. This will mean that later in life, when the menace of cancer looms, they will take proper care of their teeth and never neglect any kind of new spot in the mouth, whether it be sore or not. The moment anyone reads these sentences, he should go to his family physician and request and examination of the skin and the irritation should be removed. He should go to his dentist at once, especially if he is a smoker, request him to clean and smooth the teeth, see if the plates fit properly and look for the white patches of leukoplakia, red areas of irritation, or the organism of Vincent's angina which became generally known through the war as "Trench mouth" beware of the irritation of the never slip eye glass on the nose. When glasses of any kind produce irritation of the skin, change them. Fortunately for the human race, the wart on the hands of young people and the corns and the callouses on the feet of most people, rarely develop into cancer. The most dangerous spots are on the lips and tongue. The best treatment for all irritations of the mouth and skin are cleanliness. For the skin it is soap and water, followed by medical alcohol and vaseline of 2 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment. For the mouth tooth paste and brush and most important of all, a good dentist to clean teeth and give instructions on oral hygiene.

Package Follows Man For 12 Years

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill. June 6—A twelve year tour of several countries, began during the world war, was made by a package which finally was delivered to John McClain, a candidate for county commissioner in the recent primaries here.

On February 4, 1918, McClain, then stationed at Field Hospital No. 2, A. E. F. in Tours, France, celebrated his 21st birthday by having his picture taken, and ordered the prints sent to the hospital.

When the pictures reached the hospital, McClain had left, and they began following him, never quite catching up. From Tours they went to Strasbourg, Germany, thence to Cleveland, and Dayton, O., and then back to the photographer in Tours, one J. Rio.

Rio sent the package to American Legion headquarters in Paris, whence it was forwarded to Indianapolis, and then to Miami, Fla., where McClain was a county judge and State Senator before coming to Chicago.

From Miami, the pictures followed McClain to this city. When it arrived, it was literally covered with postage stamps.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon. The chaplain, Rev. James Sher Montgomery, D. D. offered the following prayer:

Infinitesimal Love, so pure and boundless, we thank Thee that we are the ungrateful children of Thy earthly household, looking upon ourselves as plants in the garden of our Lord. Bless us with the sense of things unseen, eternal, immutable, and more and more admit us into mysteries of Thy kingdom. O Spirit of Christ, dwell in our homes, the divine unit of society, where the soul develops its powers and learns to use its vision. O dwell in every heart, the ultimate shrine and temple of God. Make manifest in motherly arms Thy watchful care for every child and every hearthstone. As guardians of truth, honor, and purity, lead us on to the highest accomplishments of our spiritual natures. Amen.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Lying is an interesting topic. Since I asked for opinions as to whether or not it should be preferred to truths that hurt, I have received some strong opinions on the subject. One of the interesting ones came from a lady in La Grange, Illinois, who thinks we are all prize liars. She doesn't venture an opinion as to whether or not it is the right thing to do, but she says my column is her "mental daily dozer" and she thinks I am always right. In as much as I put forth the modest opinion that a white lie to save a heartache or a reputation, was better than the truth that wrecked a life, she must be in favor of white lies. But she wants to say that a little thought on the subject has brought her to the conclusion that lying is the best thing we do.

Of course if it is, there must be a reason and a good one. It's only good things that are permanent, and when a thing grows and grows—even if it's merely a habit, there must be some virtue in it. She writes this: "I have this to say about lying. Lying is the best thing we do."

"Our visiting manners belie our true behavior."

"Our company manners and spread (I suppose she means showing off) belie our daily living conditions."

"Our cars often belie our incomes."

"We dress and make up to belie our ages."

"Lying has become an art with civilization."

"Often the rich only appear superior."

"The poor appear shiftless."

"The miser may be called thrifty."

"The educated may appear intelligent."

"Only when we are very young or very old do we lose the resistance to appear what we are not and show ourselves what we truly are."

A woman in St. Louis wants to state that too much importance is given to small lies and too little to the big ones that get men into high public office and put into their hands the power to do damage to great numbers of people. "Petty larceny is what lands you in jail," says the lady.

"Grand larceny is what lands you in a water front country place."

She should have added "sometimes". Some people with water front homes started in the ghetto, selling papers. Too often those who resent the prosperity of others WANT to believe they stole all they got. You wouldn't think of slaving as they did, going without and putting pennies away. After years of struggling they land on top of the heap through their own earnest effort.

LOS ANGELES, June 6—John Doe, as police call any anonymous person, is today's most honest and most modest citizen.

He wrote an unsigned letter to the police department with a ten dollar bill pinned to the massive "I found this at First and Grand avenue this morning," the note read. "Please advertise for the owner."

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Sun Bath Good For Tot If Exposure Is Gradual

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

With the warm, sunny days here let the baby bask in the sunlight. It is free to rich and poor. The trouble is most babies, even when they are out of doors on sunny days, have heavy clothing on them.

Wise mothers put the infant who cannot run around on a blanket in the sun, without any clothes. Their stupid neighbors might be shocked, but if they are very well. Gradually they will grow educated, too. Run-abouts are clad in nothing more than a Zulu's guards or thin garbs, which entirely expose the legs, arms chest and back. Such garments easily can be made and numerous kinds of inexpensive sun suits are on the market to be had at any up-to-date department store. Write the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for the free leaflet No. 4, "Sun Suits for Children."

There is no law against using common sense concerning sun baths. Why have the baby's skin burned off? Expose him gradually. Also protect his eyes by a light hat or shade.

Have a sandpile for the toddler to make him want to stay out of doors, and some things to play with in it—a little shovel, rake, hoe, some pails and other containers. Coffee cans are cereal boxes may be very helpful. Have some toys on wheels on which to ride and haul things about, and have some heavy blocks, bricks or stones not too heavy, or scraps of lumber he can haul, and with which he can construct. Also have some things to carry water in.

If there is a place for him to dig in the earth let him go to it.

Encourage other children to join him. Have then some extra tools and toys. Expect some fights and quarrels. Interfere only for necessary physical protection. Don't join in the play unless absolutely needed. No playmates like other children of the same age.

Teach your child first to stay out of the street. Make him safe. Unless he plays in a yard or far from the street, balls are dangerous toys.

In case he cannot be induced to remain out-of-doors long enough so walking with him. Your work is less important than his getting in the sunshine, and, incidentally, the sunshine will do you good.

Don't let him play too long at any time. Bring him in at intervals for a quiet half hour or so. Then read to him a story or two to calm him and to make coming in next time less painful. Little children do not know when they are tired. They seem to go on forever. Crabbedness is about the first symptom of fatigue. Don't wait to see this sign. Plan ahead, particularly before his meal time.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

If you have a question you would like to have answered personally write me enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

The Senate should be able to put teeth in a law. It gets plenty of practice on treaties.

Lawrence County

County of Lawrence, so richly blest, With all that makes up Nature's best. Well watered hills, and valleys, too—Kissed by the Sun and morning dew.

The soil,—the streams,—the well kept roads, All serve to ease, life's pressing loads. On City,—Town, or village street, The prosperous business man you'll meet.

In Steel or Bronze or useful Tin—Here—are the Leaders,—those that win,

If farm or business be your aim—Then Lawrence County holds strong claim.

In Schools and Churches—well supplied,

In these we take a special pride, In real homes,—that make men great, None more complete in all the State.

Our beautiful landscapes,—meet the eye, They welcome every passerby—Romantic beauty,—rocks and streams—

And shady nooks,—bring restful dreams.

Our glorious Sunsets,—lingering late, Seem like a view of the pearly gate—Such gorgeous hues—no man can tame,

And only God can make the frame.

Where Nature sows with liberal hand, The wise and thrifty own the land—Thus Lawrence County proves, you see,—

Your Golden Opportunity. MRS. SARA DANA FALLS DAVIS.

COUNCIL TO PASS ORDINANCE REGARDING CAR TRACKS HERE

Ellwood Council Decides To Draft Ordinance Compelling
Harmony Line
To Repair
Streets

Drastic Steps To Be Taken To Control Double Parking On Spring And Fifth

ELLWOOD CITY, June 6.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Borough Council which took place Thursday evening in the City building, the troubling question of the condition of the franchise of the Harmony Electric company in the Borough limits came up. M. A. Riley, chairman of the committee reported that his committee had looked into matters and decided that the best plan would be for the Borough to draft an ordinance compelling the Harmony traction company to repair the streets between their tracks which are in bad condition. This matter has been up before Council a number of times without any apparent results for the better. The Council members finally decided at last night's meeting to put legal pressure on the matter by endorsing the proper ordinance and then enforcing action on same.

There will also be an ordinance drawn concerning the parking of cars on Spring avenues and Fifth street. Double parking on either street congests traffic, and even single parking on Spring near Fifth causes trouble when a car is parked and a street car is waiting to discharge or admit passengers. Regarding the parking ordinance the City solicitor and committee will look into the matter and report back to council at a later date.

The Board of Education intend to place flood lights in front of the Lincoln High School and requested council to furnish the current. Council agreed to do this, feeling it would be an added attraction to the city.

Permission was asked by the Board of Directors of the Ellwood City hospital to change the grade in the street in the rear of the hospital in order to make a parking place. This matter was referred to the borough manager and street committee.

Ordinances
Ordinances were passed to establish grades on Perry street Lime avenue, First avenue and Dumm avenue. These were passed on the first readings.

An ordinance was passed making it unlawful to sell milk without a certificate from the Board of Health. Persons who wish to secure this permit must first conform to the regulations of the Board of Health. This was passed on the first reading.

Committee Reports
The fire committee reported 5 fires last month.

The police committee reported 12 arrests and 6 discharges. Fines and forfeits amounted to $70.

The Health Officer reported 21 cases of measles and 1 case of pneumonia for the month.

Recommendations
The street committee recommended that several property owners be ordered to pave sidewalks. Notices to this effect will be sent to these owners.

It was recommended that an Athletic committee be appointed to supervise the athletic fields. This matter was referred to the Police Committee.

A request from Ellport that a flood light be placed near that boro and they in turn will light their main street was referred to the borough manager and the Electric Light and Gas committee.

Free Parking
A free parking place under city direction is available at the P and L E freight station on Saturdays and pay nights. Flood lights light the space.

Protest Ban On Student Fencing

(International News Service)
BERLIN, June 6.—The German Surgical society has passed a resolution vehemently protesting against a proposed new law specifically providing that student fencing duels are to be punished as duels with deadly weapons.

This law is being prepared following acquittal of ten dueling students of the Berlin university on the ground that fencing duels are not duels with deadly weapons and therefore cannot be punished under the present law.

The surgeons claim that fencing duels are far less dangerous than boxing and that if the government prohibits the student duels it must forbid boxing as well.

BREAD FOR THE CHILD

THE growing child, with his incessant activity, needs a generous proportion of energy-supplying foods. Bread contains a large amount of starch and protein which when utilized in the body provides this energy. It is easily digested and almost completely assimilated by the body. The child's hunger is satisfied by a food which he likes.

Bread occupies an important place in the diet of the normal individual, and properly baked bread made with milk is a wholesome, nutritious and inexpensive food.

Roadside "Dope" Source Of Trouble To Most Motorists

Motor Club Is Only Organization Able To Furnish Complete Information

Dependence on roadside information is one of the greatest causes of annoyance and inconvenience during the touring season according to R. W. Bolsinger, President of the New Castle Motor Club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Bolsinger pointed out that with a network of highways extending in all directions and with conditions on them, because of constructions, etc., changing from day to day, it is almost imperative that the motor vacation be planned in an orderly way. The A. A. A. Club executive declared that handling of the nation's motor transport is now as complicated as the movement of trains and requires the attention of experts on routing and road conditions. "In the past," he continued, "car owners have been hesitant to consult maps due to their unfamiliarity with them and the trouble of folding. However, highways maps are now greatly simplified and for main-traveled highways route cards can be secured from motor clubs.

"The modern map also designates points of interest, as well as a choice of routes and are kept up-to-the-minute. In addition, the A. A. A. publishes detour maps twice each month giving all detours on principal highways and beyond saving time and trouble for the car owner, also serves to reduce the travel expenses."

Around Chal-lon, the losses are put at fifty per cent and at Gevrey-Chamberlin and Ma-sannay at one-quarter of the average output. Late buds may help to re-pair some of the damage.

Los Angeles Ends 25-Year War Over Water

By LYLE ABBOTT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 6.—Citizens voting under the law have written the final chapter of a lawless water feud of southern California.

Los Angeles' overwhelming approval of $38,800,000 water bonds in Tuesday's election was to settle for all time the Owens Valley water war which cost several lives huge property damage and disruption of a community of 8,000 persons.

By means of a $6,000,000 fund in the bond issue, the city will buy the five towns of Bishop, Independence, Laws, Lone Pine and Big Pine, and many ranches on which there are water rights, needed by Los Angeles. Prices of the ranches and town properties were fixed by a board of arbiters, whose activities followed those of armed dynamite raiders among hot heads from the Owens Valley.

The Owens Valley is linked to Los Angeles by the $25,000,000 Los Angeles aqueduct, 240 miles long.

But Los Angeles' water needs exceeded the supply obtained by purchase of some 200,000 acres of valley lands.

Twelve thousand more acres now will be brought.

The water war involved dynamiting of the aqueduct, armed clashes, the closing of five banks, conviction of Mark and W. W. Waterson, once powerful bankers of embezzlement and many clashes of human wills and misfortunes of human lives.

The war lasted 25 years. A picture of future peace was drawn as citizens stamped approval of the bond issue.

While many of the ranches, deprived of water so that a metropolis of the west might grow, will revert to the desert from which they were homesteaded, some business and farm activity can be possible in Owens Valley.

Each of the residents there will become a tenant of Los Angeles, occupying his land or his store or office by right of lease on nominal terms.

Los Angeles fixed lease rates are so low they are expected to return only the taxes on the property.

'Ma' Preferred Home Brew To Flowers

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 6.—"Say it with home brew" is the latest Mothers' Day slogan here.

Miss Mary Dowby, 35, a dressmaker, brought into court on a charge of having 200 bottles of home brew and five gallons of alcohol in her establishment, said she was going to present the brew to her mother for Mothers' Day.

"Why, I never heard of such a thing," Judge Samuel Heller said.

Pomona Grange Presents Past Master's Jewels

Annual Western Pennsylvania
Grange Picnic To Be Held
June 25

Regular meeting of Pomona Grange held Wednesday June 4 in the United Presbyterian church of New Wilmington with the New Wilmington Grange as host, was featured by a number of matters of importance.

At the evening session, past masters jewels were presented to J. W. Fulkman and J. A. Boak, former masters of the Lawrence County Pomona Grange. The presentation was made by James Keiso on behalf of the Pomona Grange.

The address of the evening session was delivered by Rev. D. T. Thomas of Mercer County Pomona. His subject was one of hope and optimism.

The morning session was given over to routine business and reports. The afternoon session was devoted to hearing resolutions and a literary program. A committee was appointed to compile data concerning the work of Pomona Grange and have this published in book form at some later date.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, the members of Pomona Grange marched into the auditorium of the church, where the annual Memorial services for deceased members was held. The Memorial address was given by Rev. J. Ralph Neal.

A sumptuous dinner was served at five o'clock in the diningroom of the church by the ladies of the Wilmington Grange. There were a hundred persons in attendance.

Announcement of the annual picnic of the Western Pennsylvania Grangers to be held at Etna Springs on the Butler and Slippery Rock road, on June 25, was received with enthusiasm and indications are that it will be largely attended by the grangers of Lawrence county.

Here Are A Few Rules For Displaying Flags

Honoring the occasion of six conventions meeting in this city from June 8-14, many residents and business men will display American flags at their homes and in front of business establishments.

There will be several parades in which American flags and other pennants will be prominently displayed.

At the national flag conference, held in Washington, several years ago, a flag code was agreed upon and adopted. In answer to a request by a reader of The News, printed pamphlets of this accepted etiquette of the stars and stripes were sent to The News for publication, from several other readers—one of whom was Jonathan Jacobs, of Ellwood.

Here are some important points of the code and local people who are planning to display their flags should abide by these rules:

1. When hanging with the stripes in a vertical position against the wall, the stars should be in the upper left hand corner.

2. When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of building, the union, cony or front of the flag should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the flag is a half-staff.

3. When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, i. e., to the observer's left.

4. When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north, in an east or west street or to the east in a north and south street.

5. When used in connection with the unveiling of a statue or monument, the flag should form a distinctive feature during the ceremony; but the flag itself should never be used as a covering for a statue.

Chicago To Have New Hospital

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill., June 6.—Plans for a thirty-story hospital building, to be erected at a cost of $5,000,000 have been announced by the trustees of the Wesley Memorial hospital here through its president, George W. Dixon.

The new structure, containing 600 beds, will form a complete medical center on the McKinlock campus of Northwestern University, near the downtown section of the city, and will adjoin the university's medical school.

The project is the culmination of more than eight years of negotiation for the complete affiliation of the university and the Wesley hospital, President Dixon said.

The main building will rise eighteen stories, and will be surmounted by a buttressed tower extending twelve stories higher. The ground area will be approximately 250 square feet.

It is hoped that the hospital will be completed by the fall of 1932, so that it may be one of the Chicago World's Fair exhibits.

Sound Proof Film Studios Are As Silent As Tombs

By FREDERIC A. CHASE
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 6.—It is significant of the growth of talkies that a year ago the only sound-proof building on the Paramount lot was a small, haphazard, wooden affair, hung with heavy blanket materials, whereas now there are fourteen sound-proof stages, huge, heavily constructed buildings inside which there is the silence of a tomb.

A year ago, the sound pictures were made at night, when the rumbling of Hollywood traffic had stopped, and the carpenters working on new stages had finished the day's hammering. Watchmen were stationed around the studio to ward off noise makers. Actors and actresses got used to working all night and playing in the daytime instead of working all day and playing at night.

Habits of the stage are hard to break. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, the comedians, appeared recently in a broadcast of the RKO hour over the NBC network.

They had about twenty lines of dialogue before beginning one of their songs.

Completing the dialogue, the orchestra broke into the opening bars of the song and both Wheeler and Woolsey "automatically" turned their backs on the microphone and began singing to the audience in the broadcasting studio.

All actresses are reluctant to tell their ages. The reluctance is easily understood in the case of the older players, but why should the younger generation hide their youth?

Mae Clarke has answered the question. "Certainly I am very young," she said, when asked her age, "but why should I set a date and start people to counting. Ten years from now I want to be able to set my own age. An adding machine won't work until you punch the first key."

Apparently Miss Clarke intends to have a long career in the movies.

Award Letters At Washington

Recognition Day Occurs At Junior High On Thursday

HONOR STUDENTS FOR EXCELLENT RECORDS

Recognition of meritorious work done by George Washington junior high school pupils during the term which closed today, was given when school letters were formally presented at the annual award chapel, an event of Thursday.

A group of 69 boys and girls, who through some service rendered either in scholarship, athletics or some other form of school endeavor, were presented the letters. The honors were based on the school's new honor award system, inaugurated last semester.

Each pupil whose name follows below was a recipient of an orange "W" set on a black background, denoting that special service was given by them.

Place Highest.

Outstanding among the honor group were the high honor boy and girl, Richard Johnston and Donna Jean Beall. Special mention was given to them in the assembly program, due to the fact that both accumulated for themselves almost twice as many points as are necessary to win a letter. To achieve such, a pupil must attain at least 300 points, but Richard's card revealed he had 680 and Donna's showed her to be second highest with 590. Both are honor pupils and active in school affairs.

Scholarship awards were made only to pupils of the 7A, 8A and 9A classes. The awards in the present 7B, 8B and 9B grades will not be made until a similar award program next January.

Receive Letters.

The following received letters on Thursday:

Buy Motorcycles And Touring Car

City Buys Harley-Davidson
Motorcycles And Chevrolet Car

Council today voted to purchase three Harley-Davidson motorcycles for the city police department. The city will pay $800 for the machines and give the two old motorcycles to the Lawrence Cycle company. Councilman Treser did not vote.

The mayor, W. H. Gillespie recommended the purchase. Treser asked why the city should purchase them in view of the state using Indian motorcycles.

The mayor explained that the Harley-Davidsons are fully equipped and the city would have to pay for extras, such as speedometers if Indians were bought.

The mayor recommended the purchase also of a Chevrolet touring car, fully equipped at a cost of $475, from the McCoy Motor company.

Councilman Reeves said the car should be equipped with a bullet-proof windshield.

The council did not ask when bids were sought for such a car but it may be installed in both city cars.

Von Elm Captures French Golf Title

American Golfer Administers
Severe Drubbing To R. G.
Morrison Of England

(International News Service)
VERSAILLES, June 6—In one of the worst slaughters in recent tournament golf, George Von Elm, American Walker cup star, today won the French amateur championship by defeating R. G. Morrison, of Great Britain, 9 up and 8 to play.

The match, supposed to have been a thirty-six hole affair, ended on the twenty-eighth hole.

Morrison simply was not a match for the flashing American amateur in any sense of the word. Five up at the end of the morning round, Von Elm proceeded to win five out of the next eight holes. The American had birdies on the twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth holes, and although Morrison's card was nothing to be ashamed of, he was so completely overwhelmed by Von Elm that there never was any doubt of the outcome.

Union Graduates Class Last Night

Commencement Address Is Made By Dr. W. C. Wallace Of Westminster

When the formal commencement exercises for the Union high school class of 1930 were conducted Thursday night in the school auditorium, Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster College delivered a most inspirational address. A large number of parents and friends were present.

Twenty four seniors received diplomas last night from W. C. McGrew, president of the township school board.

In his message to the graduates, Dr. Wallace pointed out two definite things which face them as they

He compared the discovery of electricity with the awakening that some who unknowingly have intellectual force within experience. Sometimes they do not realize just what they might contribute to the world.

IT REMAINED FOR WESTINGHOUSE TO COMBINE THESE Three REFRIGERATOR CONVENIENCES

Improvements made during 12 years' experiments in one of world's largest laboratories

WESTINGHOUSE has succeeded in producing the first refrigerator which has all three refinements required by the modern housewife!

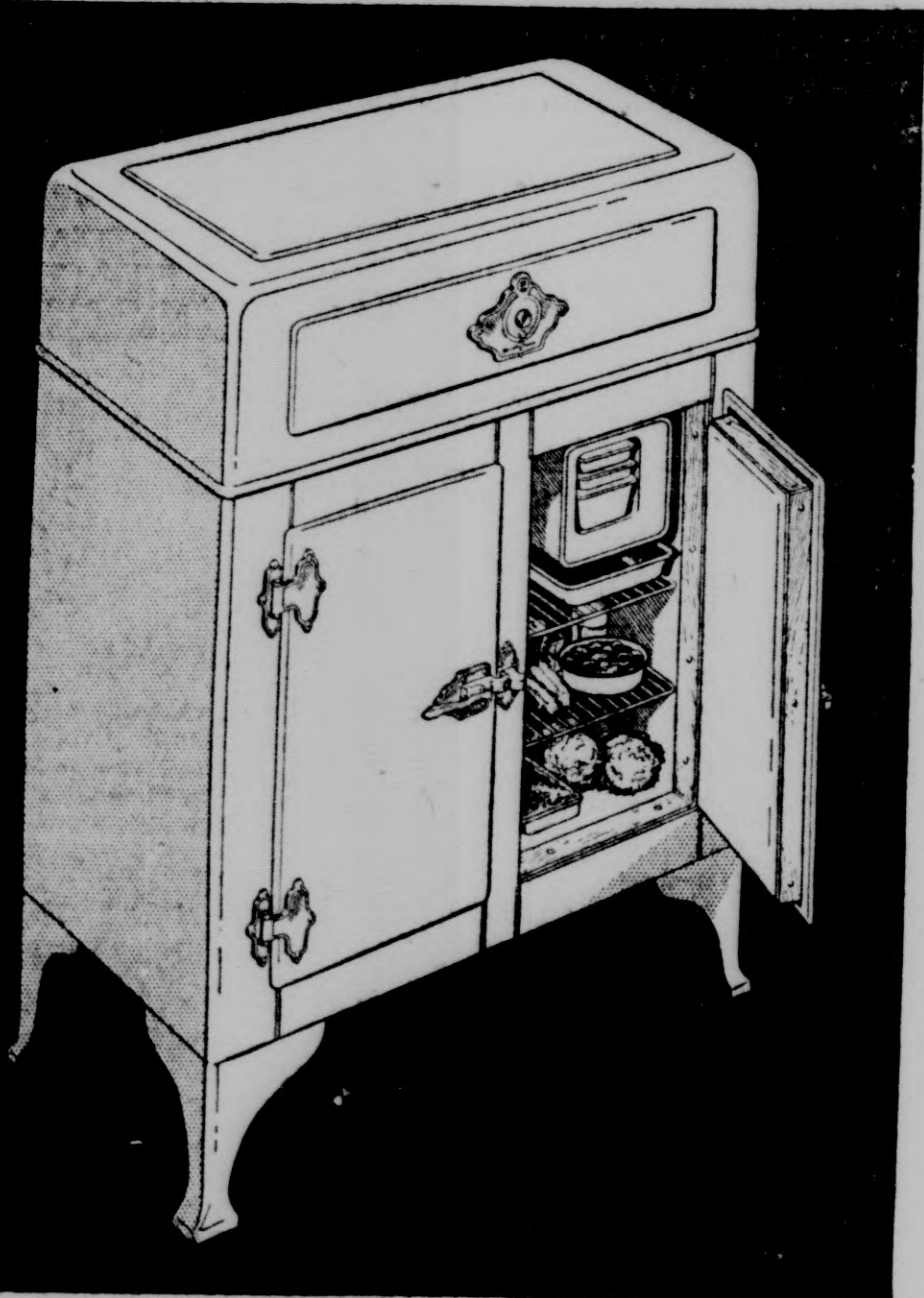

It provides the convenience of the Buffet-Top — which is really the top of the hood. It offers an outside shelf especially handy when food is being taken from or replaced in the cabinet. Step-saving, time-saving — this refinement simplifies your food preparation.

The Temperature-Selector — A legible dial with seven freezing speeds — each one of which is automatically maintained — is placed on the center front panel, arm-high, where it is most easily adjusted. This efficient regulator hurries up ice cubes and desserts.

Broom-High Legs allow a full eleven-inch clearance for sweeping and cleaning. Their broad, flat glider feet protect your floor covering.

These unusual advantages were made possible by the compact, hermetically sealed mechanism which Westinghouse developed after over twelve years' experiments. It is small enough to tuck under the hood — to permit the many refinements which the new Westinghouse offers.

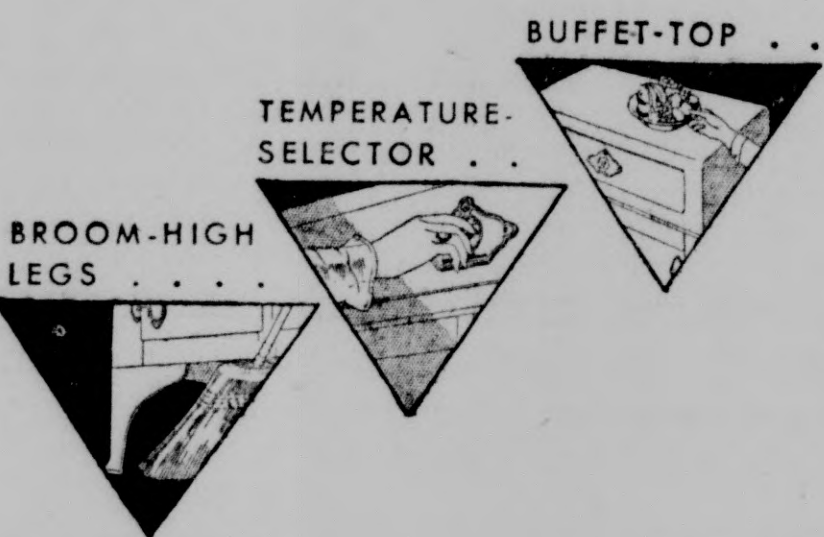

All these desirable qualities have been built into but one refrigerator! May we show you these points . . . the improved mechanism of the new Westinghouse . . . and its many other features?

Secrets Passed From Father to Sons

MAKING beautiful things, to valuable marbles and mosaics which add to the beauty of the universe, to bring pleasure to the eyes of mankind, to inspire lofty thoughts among beholders, for the adornment of churches and shrines, to preserve in material beauty and grace the stories and traditions of saints and martyrs, is the pleasant life task of a group of men—artists—who labor with skillful and loving fingers daily in the sculpturing of statues, the carving of moldings, the inlaying of mosaics and the building of altars.

And that is true of the family of three brothers, A. J. Kaletta, W. H. Kaletta and A. C. Kaletta, who conduct the business. Born of a father who founded the industry on his arrival here from Germany, they were brought up almost as an integral part of the work itself, learning from the early days of childhood various bits of its intricacies and traditions, until each of them now is proficient in every branch and department of the work and each takes how the pleasure in continuing from day to day the varied tasks of skill and mold.

Work for Churches. The principal business of these artists is the making of statuary and the building of altars for churches. In this the plant is unique, for there has been developed a formula but this depends on the size of the brought from Europe by the elder model. After it has cooled and con-Kaletta and patented under the laws of the United States, which produces broken off from the gelatin, which is reinforced by bits of steel and wire removed from the model; and this is and other materials, which is easy to the cast that hereafter can be used work into sculptured statues and to make any required copies of the pedestals and mural panels and the statue.

The biggest demand, of course, is completed, will be in such shape that for statues of the saints and of it is practicable to pour the composi- plaques depicting the various tion in it. This smeared into the apertures on the the "Way to the Cross," mold, from 2 to 3 inches deep, de- which are in use in all Catholic churches. The utmost latitude ex-ists in the material and workman-ship of these statues, for a poor con-gregation naturally will not be able to afford the elaborate carvings and

The Mississippi of the North

THE Father of Waters has a ment, but an inland waterway that is from there to the Arctic terminal is nearly 2,000 miles long has some but no one hears much about thrills, too. It can hardly yet be said to have found a place on the tourist maps, although there are trains, steamboats and time tables for those who want them, and one year 2,200 tickets were sold for some part of the Mackenzie trip. Most of this travel was in the way of busi-ness or work, but a few sightseers were included and some day there may be a tourist traffic to the top that will be of real proportions.

Origin at Alberta. This longest side trip in America begins at Edmonton, Alberta. Its first lap is 300 miles by rail to Wa-terways, an outpost in the Northern wilderness that is both end of steel and head of navigation. All the way balls may be properly inserted where they belong in the face and perma-nently fastened there. These eyes are bright and glistening. They are fully round—not like the artificial eyes that sometimes are worn by hu-mans who have lost one of their op-tics. These glass products are made in Europe and cannot be duplicated in this country for anything like the price.

The Pedestal. When the statue has thus been completed, it is placed upon its pedestal. The pedestals are made of the same clay, cast in a mold and trimmed and finished in the same way as the statues themselves, except that all molding which is used upon them and upon altars is made by the individual workman at a bench, in ceaseless repetition of his patterns, so that there can be no warping nor yielding of these strips. The pedestal cast, worked over by the sculptors and dried, is lacquered by air pressure from special-ly made spray guns. No paint is used upon them, a special material being obtained from cotton-seed oil, but refined to a higher degree. In the spraying room it is necessary for the workmen to have the protection of a special ventilation system, for the fumes, resembling "banana oil," which come from the lacquer, are very heavy and penetrating.

Mosaic Patterns. First of all, watching him, one gains the idea that making a mosaic pattern is much like laying a tile floor. But as one continues to ob-serve the intricacies of the pattern, the variations and blending of the coloring, the queer shapes into which he is obliged to cut the wide sheets of material, there comes a realization that none but an artist and lover of beauty could toil so patiently and in-telligently to produce something to delight the eye. One artist, Enrico Zerberine, worked for seven years on the mosaics.

mile stretch of bad water. It used to be something of an adventure, but even portaging has been modernized and nowadays it is done with motor trucks and tractors. Beyond the rap-ids the steamer for Aklavik, the terminal at the Arctic end, is wait-ing. Great Slave lake is an inland sea slightly larger than Lake Erie and the Mackenzie river, which runs out from its western end, averages two miles wide, with long, well-behaved stretches that make good sailing. The transportation service on the Mackenzie route, covering the whole run from Waterways to Aklavik, is in the hands of two fur trading com-panies, which are running boats to serve their own posts and are doing also a general carrying business. Together they have a fleet of six ships, several barges for towing freight and a number of motor and sailing boats for local traffic on the lakes. All the steamers are flat-bot-tomed stern-wheelers, drawing about seven feet of water. They burn wood, which they get from native stands of spruce along the way.

Round Trip. The round trip by water is a matter of about thirty days. Accom-mo-dation on the boats is not of the Great Lakes order, but it is surpris-ingly good for a wilderness route, and there are such luxuries as elec-tric lights, deck chairs and several-course dinners. To be sure, the Arct-ic Mississippi is primarily a freight route, and its passenger business is only, incidental; but it is developing.

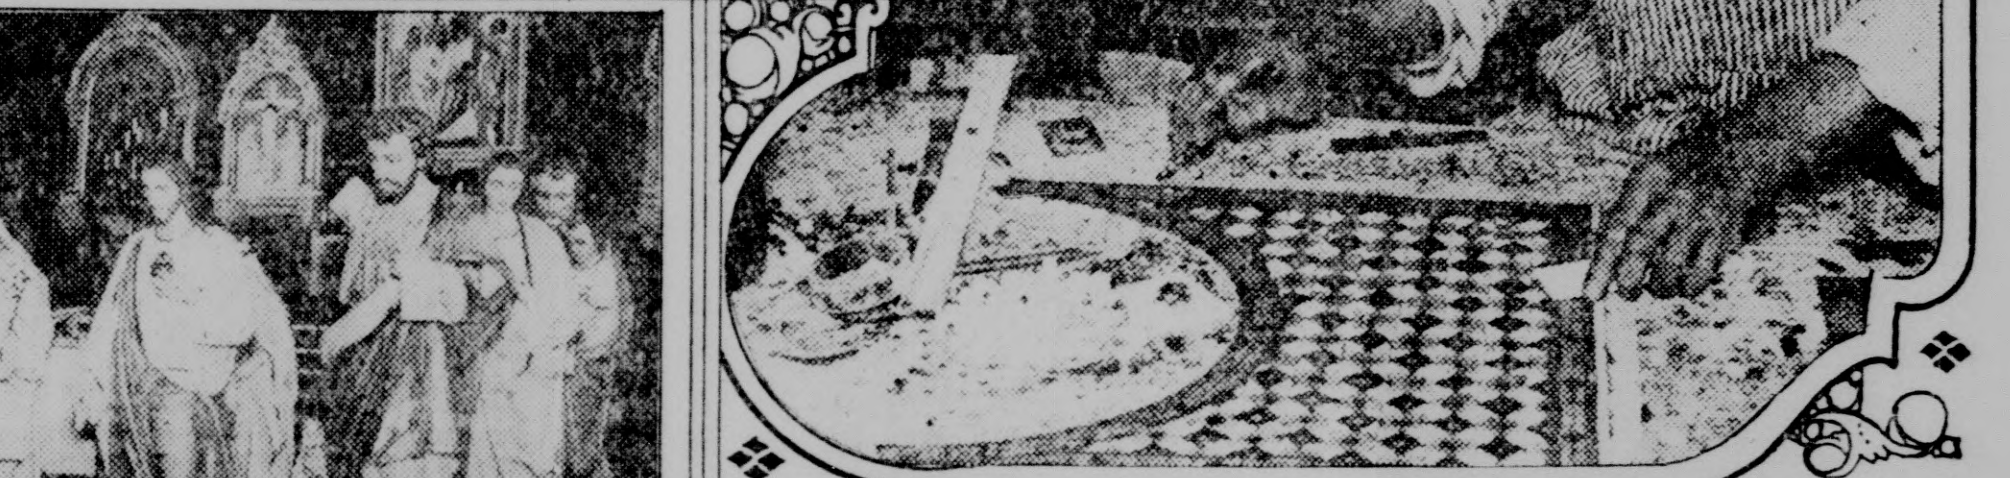

At the end of the line are Eskimos. There are a goodly number of these Arctic highlanders in the Mackenzie delta, where they are well and pros-perously established. They, too, are trappers and hunters and the condi-tions under which they live would seem to be even harder than those of the Indians; but they are better masters of their circumstances and spectacle as the midnight sun, for

Stanford Co-eds Seek To Prove They Have "It"

By WALLACE K. RAWLES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., June 3.—Ten million dollars to prove that Stanford co-eds have "It." That's the campaign launched by Sylvia Weaver, woman's editor of the Stanford University Daily.

Stanford women resent the fact that Stanford men often import their "dates" from Mills College in Oakland, and from the University of California in Berkeley, adjacent cities in the San Francisco bay area.

A "godmother" with $10,000,000 is sought. The money would be used as an employment to lift the limit of 500 women students established by the 1899 Stanford grant. The Stanford co-eds want a new gymnasium and equal privileges the right to stay out a little later at night (or mornings) and the right to be regarded as "good dates."

Thousands of girls seek to enter Stanford University, but only the 500 most intelligent scholastically are allowed to be in classes at one time. Miss Weaver, in her stirring editorial campaign in the college newspaper, points out that if more girls are admitted to Stanford, fewer Stanford men will seek their "dates" elsewhere.

Miss Weaver writes that "Traditionally, Mills College girls are beautiful, California co-eds are good dates, University of California at Los Angeles' femininity are lovely creatures, but Stanford women have IQ's (Quotients Intelligence). There is a deep rooted prejudice against the 500."

"and Miss Weaver continues to say that Stanford girls "It" is on a par with their IQ."

It was further stated that Stanford men, when desiring "dates" figure thusly: "Huh, mental geniuses, are they? Operator give me Berkeley

It was Mrs. Leland Stanford who set the limit at 500 women in fear that the University named for her son might become too much of a woman's college.

Find Old Mud Shark Imbedded In Stone

BODEGA, Cal., June 6.—A fossilized shark more than seven feet long and weighing nearly a ton has been unearthed in a mud flat near here. It has been announced.

County Horticultural Commissioner O. E. Bremmer uncovered the "fish" and had it removed in sections to the offices of the county farm advisor at Santa Rosa where it was added to a "museum" collection of rarities Bremmer has gathered.

According to Bremmer, the fossil is a mud shark the age of which he was unable to determine. Eyes fins and mouth are easily traceable in the solid stone while the internal structure may be seen in the cross-sections into which the stone shark was cut in order to make its removal possible.

Bremmer believes that the shark was stranded centuries ago when the ocean covered what now are farm lands where the strange fossil was found. Other excavations were planned in the same vicinity.

New Castle Boy With Fleet Writes From China

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Brown, of 308 Hillcrest avenue, have just received a most interesting letter from their son, C. Gail Brown who is in the United States Navy and is now with the Asiatic Fleet, his ship having just arrived in Victoria, better known as Hong Kong, China on April 27, 1930 when the letter was written. He is on duty on the U. S. S. Canopus, Submarine Tender, Division No. 7, Asiatic Fleet.

It contains some very interesting information relative to that interesting city, which should prove of interest to the people of this city.

The letter follows: "We arrived here yesterday afternoon and had a swell time doing it. Fired a twenty-one gun salute to the English navy and a seventeen gun salute to the fort. Then we tied up at the wrong buoy and had to change our berth and to top things off, a nice chilly April rain was falling.

"Some of the boys got ready to hit the beach as soon as we were secure but it was not until 7:30 p. m., that we were allowed to wander over and liberty was up at midnight. So we had a big look, see, of about four hours, but even at that, it was almost too much for some of them.

"The town of Victoria, commonly known as Hong Kong is quite a nice place and I thought I had been places and seen different people, but this place takes the cake. There are almost every kind of people under the sun here and it seemed like they are all on the street at the same time and going in different directions.

"There are not a great number of places to go, that is if you wish to eat American food. The best to be had is at Alexandria Cafe, which is a large diningroom and very nicely set up. Two of us got a very nice meal in there for about four dollars "Mex", which is about $1.50 gold. We had fillet of beef, mushrooms, French Fries and Coffee.

"The buildings are almost all three stories in height here and they seem to me quite up to date. We toured the town as much as we could, riding around in rockhaws and they sure are some affair. If you are very big, you could not squeeze into the seat, as it is just big enough for an ordinary person.

"We also had a ride in a sedan chair, which is one of those things where you sit in a chair placed in the middle with a coolie at either end. It is the only way to get up around the sides of these mountains and they certainly are high as most of Hong Kong is built on the side of the mountains. The number of little stores that one can find clinging to the side of the streets is large. But even at that the smell of the place is not very bad as smell's go.

"I am going over tomorrow in the daytime so that I will be able to see more of the town than I did up until now. The English have plenty of soldiers, sailors and marines here, also fortifications. I guess the Rock of Gibraltar has not a thing on this place.

"The civil cops are all types, tall, slim, and dark, and very straight. They carry a traffic stick about three feet in length. When I started writing about the different places I forgot to tell you that I have received a letter from you, but you should have taken that for granted as I did not say anything about having received any. I also received the letters that were sent to the Henderson. They had been to every ship in the fleet. They were here once on March 21 and they sent them somewhere else and they came back again.

"The leper colony is out on a lonely point near the channel and across from Fort Corregidor and there is very little, if any chance of ever getting there unless one should get sunk and have to swim ashore.

"Well I guess I had better close. Your Son, Gail.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The only man who is really making money in the radio business today is the man who has a good radio service department, J. E. Smith, president of the National Radio Institute of this city, declared. With some 12,000,000 radio sets now in the hands of the public, the greatest service the radio industry can render that public, Smith said, is to keep the radio sets going until such time as obsolescence and reasonable wear and tear pave the way for the sale of new sets.

Maple Sugar Season Was Above Average; 565,000 Trees Tapped

HARRISBURG, June 6.—The maple syrup and sugar season in Pennsylvania this year was one of the best in the past decade, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The season opened in January and continued an average of 4.7 weeks compared with the unusually short season of 2.6 weeks last year. Weather conditions were rather favorable throughout and exceptionally good in March in most localities.

The number of trees tapped—565,000—was the same in 1929 as in 1929 but more than twice as much sugar and almost three times as much sirup was made. According to the official estimates, 87,000 pounds of sugar and 224,000 gallons of sirup were made. In terms of sugar, the total production this year amounted to 1,879,000 pounds compared with 723,000 pounds in 1929. The average production per tree this season—3.33 pounds—was one of the highest on records in the Commonwealth and exceeds that of any other state for the present year. Production per tree in other states is as follows: Massachusetts, 2.80 pounds; New York, 2.60; New Hampshire, 2.35; Ohio 2.47; Wisconsin, 2.27; Michigan, 2.61.

Since there was little rain or snow during the season, the sap was reported as very good and the quality of the product was placed at 96 compared with 92 a year ago. Prices reported for sugar were higher this year than last but last year's crop of sirup, despite the lower quality, sold at about six cents more per gallon. This year, sugar averaged 33 cents per pound and sirup $2.08 per gallon, the reports indicate.

Pennsylvania now stands fifth in production of maple products being outranked in order named, by Vermont, New York, Ohio, and Michigan.

Rev. J. Greer Bingham Reports On Assembly

Ministers Return From Presbyterian General Assembly Held In Cincinnati, Ohio

Rev. J. Greer Bingham, pastor of the Wampum Presbyterian church has returned from Cincinnati, O., where he was attending the Presbyterian General Assembly and he reports that some of the important matters brought up at this time included:

The more than 900 Commissioners to the Assembly voted for definite steps for speedy organic union with the United Presbyterian and the Dutch Reformed denominations, and approved progress already made in negotiations with the Methodist and Protestant Episcopal communions.

It sustained President Hoover in his campaign for law observance and in his efforts for reduction of armament and the extension of world peace. It reasserted the ancient stand of the Presbyterian church for suppression of the liquor traffic.

It took steps to strengthen the Presbyterian ministry educationally, to educate the ruling eldership of the church in its duties, and to place the denominational colleges on a more secure footing for the promotion of Christian education. It gave women members equal right with men for ordination as ruling elders.

The Assembly's special Commission on Marriage, Divorce and Remarriage was continued for another year, to promote higher ideals in marriage relationships and to bring back to the next Assembly in 1931 a more complete report based on further study and research.

The Assembly was devoid of controversy and maintained a high level of Christian fellowship and spirituality. The presiding officer, Dr. Henry Buck Master, of Philadelphia, was appointed by the new Moderator, Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, of Pittsburgh, to the chairmanship of the important Standing Committee on Christian Education. Dr. Kerr being President of Board of Christian Education, which demonstrates how cordial a feeling of unity prevailed. ## SAVE WITH SAFETY UNCOMFORTABLE SITTING?

If you are bothered with rectal trouble, we recommend the use of Falsley's Pile Ointment, applied once or twice daily. This will relieve the distress and also reduce the trouble.

It is also important to keep the bowels free and easy, as any strain tends to magnify the trouble. Take a tablespoonful of Agarex twice daily for this.

Reviews Result Of May Health Drive

Dr. Mary Riggs Noble Well Pleased With Co-operation Shown

HARRISBURG, June 6.—According to the reports already filed in the office of the state health department, there is a positive indication that the May Day health drive sponsored by the state health department and allied agencies has made a record for the amount of work done and defects corrected over all years during which this movement has been in operation.

Commenting on this activity, Dr. Mary Riggs Noble, state chairman for Pennsylvania and chief of the state health department's section, said today: "Never before has there been so much interest manifested nor so much intelligent cooperation exhibited as in the survey and campaign just completed. Working closely with the national association and with parental teacher associations, the amount of work accomplished this year, both in numbers of children examined and in the constructive follow-up work, far exceeds that of last year, which made a record.

Returns Foe's Wallet Fifteen Years Later

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 4.—It took Franz Piter, of Sorau, Germany, fifteen years to be overtaken by remorse.

In 1915, Piter was in the Kaiser's Army. He captured a seriously wounded Frenchman, one Victor Martin.

Piter only did what some other soldiers mostly did: he took charge of Martin's valuables, including his wallet.

A few days ago, Martin received the wallet back from Piter, accompanied by a note expressing regret at the long delay.

Eagles Give To Fund For G. A. R. Encampment

Fund Is Growing Due To Generosity Of Friends Of Civil War Veterans

Latest of the fraternal organizations of the city to show their appreciation of the Grand Army of the Republic is the New Castle Aerie No. 455, Fraternal Order of Eagles, it was announced today by R. L. Meermans, chairman of the finance committee.

Entirely unsolicited and a surprise the check of the Eagles was received by Chairman Meermans with much pleasure and is for $50 a very substantial addition to the fund for the encampment.

Another generous gift received at the same time is that of Harry L. McBride Post No. 522 Veterans of Foreign Wars for $25. Other gifts reported today by Chairman Meermans are as follows: W. C. Burchfield $3, D. O. Davies $2, Edward Davis $1, Perry N. Brest $2, Sarah E. Bowman $2, Clayton H. Reeves $10, Mrs. Sue Lindley $5, A Friend $1.

Chairman Meermans wishes at this time to notify all donors to the fund that he will not have time to send each donor a receipt for the money given and that publication in The News is to be his only way of acknowledging the receipt of the many gifts to the fund.

All gifts may be sent to Chairman Meermans at the Y. M. C. A. and checks should be made out to D. D. Vallensi, Financial Secretary of the G. A. R. Encampment Committee.

King Of Puzzlers Known In This City

Is Husband Of Local Girl And Resides In Cleveland Ohio

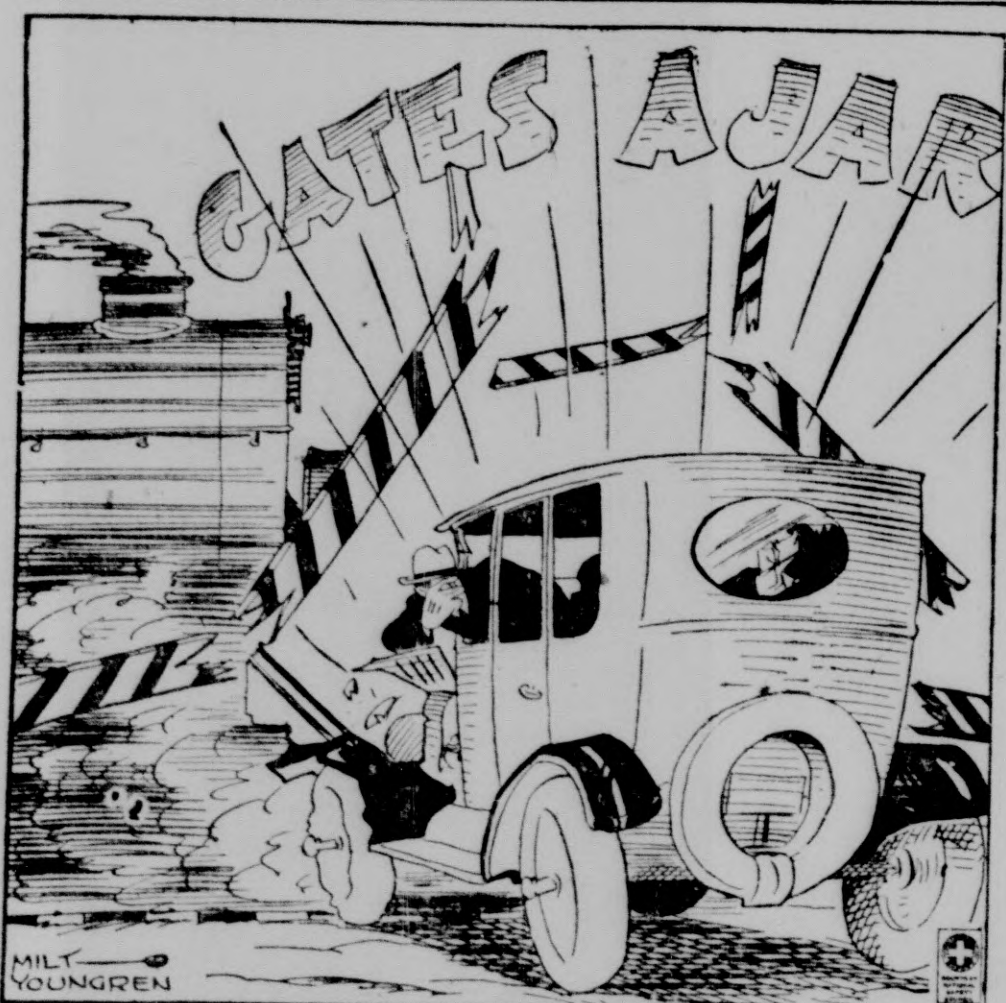

In a recent national contest conducted at Jersey City, N. J., and in which over 350,000 competed, Wayne F. Koppes of Cleveland, won the major prize and received a $2,000 bond and a golf flashlight as a reward.

The contest was in the nature of a solution of picture puzzles based on every day application of electric products, such as flashlights, radio tubes, batteries and things of that nature.

Mr. Koppes was awarded his prizes personally by Mayor John D. Marshall of Cleveland. He is known here, being the husband of Miss Alice Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Nelson of 502 Florence avenue. In winning, Mr. Koppes became known as the "King of Puzzlers".

Note to Mussolini: Yelling "Attah-bey" at the stork may be patriotic, but quantity production in America has made a problem of the surplus.

Something New in "Gate Crashing"

WHEN railroad gates are lowered one may reasonably assume the train is coming. The Interstate Commerce Commission recently pointed out that during the year 1928 there were 179 tragic auto smash-ups when auto drivers, unheeding the lowered gates, crashed right through into the speeding trains. Also there were 643 cases where motorists disregarded warnings by crossing watchmen. It's mighty hard to explain it by any other word than CARELESSNESS.

G. A. R. Post Gives For Encampment

Although Guests Of The Occasion, The Post Helps Committee

New Castle Post No. 100, Grand Army of the Republic, is still very much alive, although its members are now few and the age of the members is past four score years.

While the post members are themselves among the honored guests of the city at the encampment, which opens Monday in this city, they too feel the need of every person in the city assisting in every way possible to make the affair a success and have presented to Chairman R. L. Meermans of the Finance Committee a check for $10, as the share of the post in the expense of entertaining the Pennsylvania Department of the Grand Army of the Republic and affiliated organizations.

All gifts large or small will be most acceptable and should be sent to Chairman Meermans at the Y. M. C. A.

SEEK TO REFORM

YALE CURRICULUM

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 6—The latest crusading editors of Yale Daily News are out to reform the Yale Curriculum by proposing an academic concentration plan by which thirty members would be chosen by the college dean from each class that finishes its sophomore year, and being freed from all routine requirements, would spend the next two years concentrating on some educational problem of their own selection. The plan provides that the faculty should require the students to work for a comprehensive examination or prepare a thesis, and that grades be given either when their work is done or at the end of each year. The only actual requirement is residence in New Haven.

Rivals To Meet In Neutral Ring

Goldstein And Andrucci Have Been Rivals Since Amateur Days

ANDRUCCI WON FIRST BATTLE

Rivalry is the spice of sports be it tennis, golf, baseball, swimming, football or boxing and it is due to rivalry that most of the big athletic events of the country result.

Were it missing there would be no International tennis tilts, Walker cup golf play, Tunny would not have got a chance to beat Dempsey and Max Schmeling would not be training for Jack Sharkey.

Razor-like rivalry has resulted in a fistful of pounds between Andy Andrucci and Phil Goldstein which started when they were amateurs and which blazed forth when Andrucci battled Goldstein and beat him several months ago.

"I was not in condition" was the cry of Goldstein.

"He was in shape," replied Andrucci.

Finally Goldstein with the knowledge that Andrucci had beaten him ranking in his heart determined to even the count and when he went with Jimmie Dunn he asked Dunn to fit him for the day he could beat Andrucci.

Since then he has boxed several times and recently in a fight with Danny Delmont here not only showed unlooked for form but won the decision over Delmont and this developed a challenge to Andrucci.

Remember Terry-Jones?

The Andrucci-Goldstein battle was a tough affair—hard on the principals.

There was no stalling. It was all blow for blow. They know the qualities of each other and are fitting themselves for a gruelling contest.

It is a sort of Battling Terry-Tommy Jones affair which was the talk of this city fifteen years ago. Each has a big following and the supporters are as eager to see the fight as the boxers are to oppose each other.

Neither is a champion and never will be but the fans don't care so much for that. What the fans want is action and plenty of it and according to what both lightweights say it ought to be a real furious affair.

The other boys who box here Monday night are crowd-pleasers on Jackie Ward and Bobby Dempsey fought like a couple of untamed cats and the "rubber match" will result in someone being stretched cold.

Roger Shea who fought Tommy Arnold will get a severe testing when he meets Mike Lucas and Warren Farrow takes on Ward Parchman. Ward is a big fellow and Warren will have to be in tip top shape to hold him even.

Freed Wants Action

Johnny Freed, local middleweight, wants action. He is anxious to get going here and has issued a challenge to any middleweight of his class in the city. He is a newcomer but they say he is one rugged hombre.

It looks as though Tommy Arnold will get another chance at the bowl. Arnold isn't taking his defeat seriously and Tom McCafferty who beat Joe Edwards wants to grace the semi-final one week from Monday.

When the bowl established a low price for ladies it proved a good move as many of the feminists have indicated that they will be present to see just what a boxing bout is. It is different now than it was a score years ago.

Al Friedman, the popular Boston heavyweight, will not resume ring work until late July, according to Al Lippe, Philadelphia manager. Friedman is enjoying a much needed rest.

Willie Davies victory over Black Bill, however close, will enable him to cash in on the Pittsburgh fight. Willie spent several weeks in the mountains training for the Black Bill engagement.

Should Look Ahead

Young boys who start in the boxing game should be sure that the men they pick for managers know their boxing gloves. Many youngsters are spoiled for ring work by poor training methods and poor handling during bouts.

For instance, not long ago we saw one second put ice on the neck of a boxer at the end of the first round. Taking care of cuts above the eyes is an art in itself and again there is the proper and wrong method of instructions.

It looks as though there will be some new faces around the bowl. It is said that one of the new judges will be Jimmie Dime who has consented to act as a judge when not engaged with boxers he manages.

Another clerk by the name of Wharton whom Tommy Black says would make an ideal judge intends to take out a license. The bowl desires good judges and anyone who believes he knows boxing and wants to take out a license won't have any opposition.

There is one man at the bowl who has officiated at every contest, excepting one. He is Pete Capitola the timekeeper. He uses three watches. He checks them before the contest start.

Studies for Pharmacy

They say that Roy Minteer, the kid who turned in a victory over Long Sing Sue has returned to the city. Roy was a rugged boy who if he had been taught right would have got somewhere. He was rugged, fast and could stand the gaff.

Tom Farrow who fought several times is home on a vacation. Tom is taking a pharmacist's course in Washington. He is a colored lad who wants to convert his fistful ability into cash with which he can buy an education.

THE GOLF BUG

This warm weather is bringing out the golfers like fleas. Each night until the sun goes down and darkness falls, the Municipal Course is crowded with people enjoying the ancient Scotch game.

Saturday if the weather is nice the Field Club Course will be crowded as usual. There are a number of fine golfers at the Field Club and they manage to congregate there on Saturday afternoon for their various match plays. Captain Smith is arranging several matches which will prove interesting.

Just a few don'ts for the golfers to keep in mind—Always replace the divots, in other words when you dig up the turf with your club, kindly replace it. This helps make a golf course good.

In driving off from a tee, be sure that there is no one within range of you. It is easy to injure anyone with a golf ball. Always yell "Fore" when you shoot.

The player who has the honor which means that the player with the lowest score on the preceding hole has the right to shoot first. This rule is not always followed, but it makes for a good golf game and helps one with the etiquette end of the game. The other players, if there is one, two, or three, always shoot according to their scores.

It is perfectly proper to tee-off and shoot when the foursome in front of you, or other players have taken their second shot and have passed out of range. Never play up to a green while the players in front of you are hoisting out. Wait until they are through before approaching. It is easy to hit someone with your chip approach.

A foursome consisting of good golfers will always allow a two-some to go through them, which means in the parlance of golf, to pass to the hole in front of them. This is just an act of courtesy, two can play faster than four.

Players who have holed-out should not stay on the green to practice shots. After you have holed-out move off the green and allow the golfers following to move on.

Never lay a golf bag on the green. This causes the greens to be rough and spotty. Lay your bag on the fairway outside the green. Never lean on your putter on the grass when not playing your ball, this also causes unnecessary rough spots on the green.

Ladies with high heels are not allowed to walk on the greens. This rule is being strictly enforced at the Muncy Course. There have been a few women embarrassed by having been told about their high heels, and this can be avoided by not wearing them. Low heels are better for golf.

Watch The News tomorrow afternoon for the second installment on the do's and don'ts of golf as the good golfers play it.

Hughie Critz Cracks Homer

New Second-Base Man Of Giants Has Hit Two Homers
Lately To Cause Sorrow To Reds

INDIANS BEAT BOSTON RED SOX

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 6.—Like the rabbit who, after a few swigs of moonshine, challenged a lion to a free-for-all, Hughie Critz, having breathed New York's pure, invigorating air for a few days, has started running for Babe Ruth's home run record.

Hughie, who hasn't been in New York long enough to reach the Polo Grounds without a road map, hit his second home run as a Giant yesterday. The diminutive second-sacker hit but one all last year. To prove that it was the climate and not luck that accounted for Critz' spree, Pete Donohue, another ex-Redleg, hit for the circuit as the Giants downed Cincinnati 7 to 4 for a clean sweep of the series. The victory ran the Giants winning streak to five.

Phillies Down Cards
Brooklyn, thanks to a lightning fast ninth inning double play engineered by Wright, nosed out the Pirates, 6 and 5. Jess Petty, one time Robin, started on the hill for the Bucs, but was driven to the showers in the fifth inning. Bool, Grantham, and Elliott hit homers.

The Phillies gave the Cards another kick down the chute by winning handily, 10 to 4. The victory gave the Phils the series three games to one. Klein hit his fourteenth of the season.

Chicago ran its winning streak to eight straight by blasting out a 10 to 7 win over the Braves. Hack Wilson smacked No. 17 off one of Bob Smith's fast ones.

Indians Beat Sox

The West made a clean sweep in the American League, downing the Eastern clubs in all of the three games played. The Browns broke loose in the ninth inning to score five runs and whip Philadelphia 6 and 5. Walberg weakened in the last frame and Quinn, who relieved him, was unable to stem the uprising.

Vic Sorrell kept Washington's ten hits well scattered the Tigers triumphed 6-2. Sad Sam Jones lasted on the hill for the Senators until the sixth when he gave way to Burke. Cleveland ran wild to smother Boston, 17-7. The Indians got twenty-five hits, including a homer by Morgan. Cleveland got nine runs in the first inning.

New York and Chicago were rained out.

Illinois Boxing Body Puts Von Porat On "Shelf" For Six Months

CHICAGO, June 6.—Otto Von Porat, Norwegian heavyweight, was suspended for six months Thursday by the Illinois boxing commission for failure to go through with an alleged agreement to box W. L. "Young" Stribling at the Chicago stadium on June 16.

The commission ruled that although no contract had been signed, Von Porat's manager, Ed Stevenson, had legally agreed to the match through letters, telegrams and similar correspondence.

Robison Pitches Fine Four-Hit Game As Baptists Take Over Central Presbyterians

The First Baptist team behind excellent pitching by Robison, who gave out but four hits, defeated the Central Presbyterians 6 to 4 in a church game at the Scotland Lane field on Thursday night. The Baptists had five hits off Hoskins and Blaine.

It was one of the best played games in the church league this year. Neither team had an extra-base hit. Only one error was chalked up.

Johnson was the heavy hitter in the Baptist lineup with three safe singles. Shoaf led the Presbyterians at bat.

Christner Kayoed By Primo Carnera

Big Italian Heavyweight Knocks Out K. O. Christner In Four Rounds At Detroit

(International News Service)
DETROIT, June 6.—Primo Carnera has done it again. His 17th knockout came last night when the giant Italian felled K. O. Christner in the fourth round of their dispute here.

It was in this round that Carnera's huge mitt smacked Christner's eye, half way closing it. The Akron boy wheeled around and clung on desperately. However, Primo kept rushing him and a stinging left and right brought Christner to the floor to the count of ten.

Christner fought like a mad-man and in the early rounds landed a couple of blows to the Italian's face, but the huge man merely grinned and stuck his paw out with one hand, and with his other tapped Christner repeatedly.

Sport followers say K. O. was probably the gamest and toughest foe Carnera has encountered during his fistful regime in the United States. But the Italian boy came through in fine style, although he was benefitted somewhat by the blow which shut Christner's eye.

A crowd in the neighborhood of 14,000 witnessed the affair, paying in the vicinity of $60,000.

College Track Stars Gather For Big Meet

Chicago Is Scene Of Two Day National Collegiate Track And Field Meet

ENTRIES BREAK FORMER RECORD

By LEO FISCHER
International News Service Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, June 6.—With one record already wiped off the slate even before the first spiked shoe hit the turf, more than 425 of the nation's "fastest, strongest and most agile humans" today got into action in the preliminary trials of the ninth annual national collegiate track and field championship meet at Stagg field University of Chicago.

The first record to fall was that of total entries, the list being larger by almost 100 than that of the old track mark set last year. More than 90 schools and universities are represented here today by their best performers as compared to the 79 whose colors saw action in 1929.

In this huge field of athletes are included practically every college star of prominence. Every section of the country is represented, and if weather conditions are favorable, half a dozen new meet and world's records should result from today's and tomorrow's activities.

Two events particularly are attracting the attention of sports followers—the 100-yard dash and the one-mile run. From the list of entries in the century it looks as though the lad who can't get over the ground in 9.6 or less will be out of it, while the potential Nurmis and Joe Rays in the mile will have to gallop around in 4:23 or better in order to see the first man breast the tape.

Di Muccio Hurls No-Hit Battle As Indies Win

Ralph Di Muccio, New Castle Indies Mound Ace Enters Hall Of Fame

Ralph DiMuccio, mound ace of the New Castle Indies, entered the independent Hall of Fame last night at the Cedar street field when he hurled the Indies to a 10 to 0 victory over the Lawrence Indies and did not allow the semblance of a hit. Only two men reached second base. The former City League champs were at his mercy all during the game.

DiMuccio was throwing a puzzling curve and baffled every batter that the Lawrence Indies sent to the plate. He fanned five men. The New Castle Indies gave DiMuccio great support. Never once was he in danger. Scaglione proved a feature batter in the first inning when he clouted out a home run with two men on the bases and two gone. It was one of the longest hits ever seen at the Cedar street field and went over the center fielder's head. He also smote out a double in the latter innings with two men on base. Jimmy DiMuccio revised his line-up somewhat for the game last night and they seemed to work fine. The new line-up will stand for the next game.

The New Castle Indies had 11 hits off Nickum and Llewellyn.

SORDS POINTS

Sad Sam Has Become Glad Mister Jones

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

The sorrowful visage of Sad Sam Jones, long famous as the American league's gloomiest pitcher, is at last wreathed in smiles. And for a good reason. Since the beginning of the current campaign Sad Sam has been winning on an average of a game a week, which means virtually a victory every time his lean form is seen out there on the hill.

Pitching for the pennant-pursuing Washington Senators is quite a novelty for Mr. Jones, whose unluckiness in the past in being with losing clubs made him the sober individual he was to earn the nickname of Sad. Jones was with Cleveland in 1915-16 when they were going nowhere, saw a pennant or two in the service of the Red Sox and Yankees and then came to Washington by way of the downtrodden St. Louis Browns. Jones is 38. He's near the end of his string. However, he has been pitching better ball than some of the vaunted stars of the league.

Twice waived almost out of the loop Sad Sam is now chuckling over the way the Cleveland Boston, New York and St. Louis managements must be gnashing their teeth over his victories. It's their turn to be sad, not his.

The Mushball league teams are playing better ball now. Last night no team made more than twelve runs. Last year it was common to score 30 to 45 runs a game. The leagues this year are much faster. The crowds at the games are larger than last year.

There is ample time now with the Daylight Savings to play nine innings. Until the managers hold their next regular meeting the games will be seven innings unless an agreement is made before the game starts.

Pirates Lose To Brooklyn

Umpire Is Shoved Around While Fans Hiss In Ninth Inning

CALLS HEMSLEY OUT AT PLATE

BROOKLYN, June 7.—The Robins defeated the Pirates, six to five, at Ebbets field, making their second victory of the series, but the ninth was featured by a rumpus when Umpire Ted McGraw called Hemsley out when Wright threw to catch him at the plate. No blows were struck. In the first of the ninth Boal struck a single off Phelps, who replaced Elliott in the preceding frame. Hemsley ran for Boal and Mosolf hit for Chagnon, who had gone to Petty's rescue earlier. He got a pass and Phelps gave way to Luque. Engle fouled out and Paul Waner grounded to Flowers and with a good lead off second Hemsley was ordered to try for home. As he spun around third and went plunging toward the plate Wright took the throw from Flowers and Mosolf was forced. Wright threw to Lopez and Hemsley dived to the rubber just as the catcher attempted to touch him. McGraw waved him out and this turned the affair into a double play, and at the same time Lopez sprang over and attempted to tag him with the ball.

The last movement was used by the Pirates to strengthen their claim of Hemsley being safe. Hemsley put his hand on McGraw's protector and Eng entered the wrangle. Max Carey joined in the protest and the squabble started. The fans hissed the Pirates and a policeman then escorted McGraw off the field.

Bears Make Little Impression In Market

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 6.—Despite the unexpected $79,000,000 increase in brokers' loans as reported by the Reserve board after the close of yesterday's market, the bears were unable to make very much impression on the market in early trading today. Active stocks sold irregularly lower at the opening, with maximum losses under 2 points, but in most cases a part of the lost ground was recovered.

The $79,000,000 increase in brokers' loans was easily accounted for by the shifting of loans from the banks to the brokers, and signified no increase in the total volume of money loaned against securities.

Money was in good supply at 3 per cent.

After an early dip to 167½, U. S. Steel forged ahead to 168½, in the lead of the industrials. General Electric and Westinghouse hit the low levels of the day at their opening prices of 80½ and 175½ respectively and immediately recovered. Motor stocks, oils, coppers and rails, with a few of the specialties were firm from the start, and amusements stocks recovered most of their early losses.

Commodity markets were slightly irregular, with cotton down 4 points and grain fractionally lower.

Walter Hagen is a fine example of mental control. As great a golfer as Hagen is, he will always concede himself a few bad holes and shots before leaving the first tee, consequently there is not a chance in the world for him to blow up and spoil the rest of his game.

These two examples of golf are the simple and sounded foundations and are practiced by the greatest men in golf.
